President's Silent Over Boycott Plan

Views Withheld On King's Proposal For Alabama Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he doesn't want innocents hurt by any economic boycott of Alabama. However, he says he is withholding judgment until Dr. Martin Luther King drafts final boycott proposals.

This was the home-front highlight of a surprise news conference late Thursday at which the President also said:

— The White House is willing to do all it honorably can to negotiate a Viet Nam settlement but sees no sign Hanoi is ready to talk "under conditions that would be productive." He also said, "I know of no far-reaching strategy that is being suggested or promulgated" in Viet Nam policy talks here this week.

— The President stands by his invitation to Soviet leaders to visit the United States "and I would be happy to welcome them."

— Johnson is taking a second look at plans to close some Veterans Administration hospitals and concedes complaints from affected members of Congress "raise doubts in my mind whether we were 100 per cent right." However, he says his advisers still "feel they were justified in that decision."

— The recent controversy over the use of nonlethal gas in South Viet Nam was, in the chief executive's view, a case where "somebody made a mountain out of a molehill." He said he didn't know about it in advance, but defended the move as humane and rather routine.

— A reorganization of agencies that regulate banks may well be proposed by Congress and the administration in the wake of current Senate hearings which, he said, raise questions about the efficiency of the office of Comptroller of the Currency James J. Saxon.

Johnson summoned reporters to the White House theater to watch him read a couple of routine statements before television cameras recording his appearance for later broadcast. Once that job was done, he invited questions and precipitated a fullscale news conference.

The President, asked for comment on King's call for a boycott of Alabama, said he would withhold comment until the civil rights leader drafts final recommendations.

However, he aid: "I think we must be very careful to see that we do not punish innocents in this country while we are trying to protect all of our people and that we do not hurt those who through no fault of their own could be damaged without any real reason."

The first question put to Johnson dealt with a statement he made earlier in the day that he had borrowed some money to pay $100,000 in income taxes.

Johnson said he owed about $100,000 for 1964 and as a first installment on estimated income in 1965. Much of the money had been deducted from his paychecks last year, he reported, but he borrowed a portion of the remainder in order to square his accounts with Uncle Sam.

County Judge Charged In Area Mishap

County Judge Luther Donbar, 85, escaped injury when his car struck the rear of another on Route 14 near Washingtonville during rain Thursday night at 7:10.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which cited the judge of the County Court at Salem, said his 1963 sedan hit the rear of a 1962 sedan operated by Herbert Souder, 49, of Court St., Columbiana.

Souder suffered a neck injury, the patrol said.

Both autos were headed west when Judge Donbar's car hit the rear of the other about two-tenths of a mile west of Washingtonville.

Judge Donbar, charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance, is slated for a hearing before County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

There was moderate damage to the autos, patrolmen said.

Mayor Determined To Stop It

Alabama Rights Group Will Make New March Try

CAMDEN, Ala. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators were determined today to attempt another march on the courthouse of this small southwest Alabama town and the mayor was equally determined to prevent it.

Mayor Reg Albritton, 42, personally stopped three of the four marches staged here this week, once with smoke bombs. There were no injuries.

The mayor said Thursday he was responsible for the security and general welfare of the town of 2,500 — which has only three full-time policemen — and did not want to use force.

The mayor said he was willing to meet with any of the Negroes to discuss their problems.

But, he said, "they shouldn't just come down here for the hell of it."

At Birmingham, Gov. George C. Wallace posted a $5,000 reward for the criminal or criminals responsible for a dynamite bomb which exploded in a Negro neighborhood. Pledges to a reward fund soared to $50,000 within hours after the incident.

"We are sure going to try to find out who did this," the Alabama governor said during a visit to the home of T. L. Cromwell, a Negro accountant whose son, Weymouth, 13, suffered a hand cut in the blast.

Soon after the dynamite wrecked a garage behind Crowell's house, time bombs were found and disarmed at the home of Mayor Albert Boutwell and the home of a member of the City Council, Miss Nina Miglionico.

Police said the first bomb might have been a decoy to draw them to the Negro area across the city away from the locations of the other two bombs.

Boutwell was opposed in his campaign for mayor by arch-segregationists and after taking office he appointed a biracial committee to help solve the city's racial problems. However, neither Crowell nor Miss Miglionico was active in the racial campaigns.

Miss Miglionico attributed the bomb to an attempt to intimidate — "but on what issue I don't know."

At Camden, a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was directing the marches as part of a protest over voter registration procedures.

"We will try again" to march on the courthouse, said the Rev. Daniel Harrell, a Camden Negro minister.

County Fund Rises

$4,131,560 Set In Appropriation

LISBON — Columbiana County's 1965 appropriation has been set by commissioners at $4,131,560, a gain of $375,154 from the $3,756,406 actually spent in 1964.

The new appropriation is off $485,039 than the $4,816,599 appropriated for last year.

Commissioners commented that the county is "in good financial condition" because of a 97 per cent collection on real estate taxes. Most departments raised their budgets because of higher salaries set by the state for those taking office last January. Higher material costs also helped account for the increases.

—:—

COMMISSIONERS re - established a Courthouse microfilm department for 1965 after a lapse of four or five years. A new hospital to be operated at the County Home also helped account for increases in 1965 expenses.

Here is a breakdown on the 1965 appropriation, showing in parentheses in each case the amount appropriated for 1964 and the total actually spent:

County commissioners — $59,250 ($65,050, $46,005); microfilm — $17,000 (nothing, nothing); auditor — $81,280 ($77,375, $76,640); treasurer — $62,125 ($57,210, $58,822); records commission — $50 ($50, nothing); budget commission — $50 ($50, nothing).

Group Sees Preliminary Drawings Of High School

Schematic drawings of the new senior high school, which the Board of Education will submit to the State Department of Education next Wednesday for final approval, were shown and explained to members of a school publicity committee Thursday night at the high school.

John R. Woomer, a member of the school board and committee chairman, explained the committee's purpose is to disseminate information about the building program and address various groups to answer questions.

It would function much as the speakers' bureau did during the campaign to approve the bond issue to finance construction of the new high school and three elementary buildings.

Although the final plans for the high school still must be approved by the state, no major changes are anticipated, Woomer indicated.

The state on March 23 approved the plans for the elementary buildings to serve the North Side, East End and Pleasant Heights - LaCroft - Glenmoor areas.

The three - building high school and the North Side elementary building will be erected on the property the board has acquired from Standley T. Hilbert. There also will be separate parking areas for both schools, along with facilities for band and athletic practice areas.

4 More GIs Are Killed, 6 Wounded In Viet War

Two Copters Shot Down In Fighting

Casualties Heavy On Both Sides In One Major Battle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. Army men were killed and six others wounded in an assault on a Viet Cong stronghold 20 miles west of Saigon, U.S. military spokesmen reported today. Heavy casualties, both government and Communist, were reported in other actions in South Viet Nam.

Two of the American dead and some of the wounded were helicopter crewmen. Two U.S. Army helicopters were shot down during the fighting.

Reports of the fighting, in Hau Nghia Province, were fragmentary. Early reports said five South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 20 wounded during the first phase Thursday.

The American dead brought the U.S. toll in Vietnamese combat since December 1961 to 320.

Thirty-three U.S. jet fighters and bombers blasted suspected Viet Cong concentrations at various sites inside South Viet Nam today. The biggest raid was by 17 F100 Super Sabre Jets in Quang Tri Province, not far from the North Vietnamese border.

Authorities reported that both government forces and the Viet Cong suffered heavy casualties in a major battle Wednesday in Qung Tin Province, 350 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. Air Force F100s from nearby Da Nang airbase swooped in and apparently saved fleeing Vietnamese marines from possible annihilation, at the same time inflicting a heavy toll on the pursuing Viet Cong.

Official accounts said the government forces suffered 32 killed, 104 wounded and 20 missing during the fighting near Viet An, strategic redoubt controlling the approaches to Tam Ky, capital of the province.

An airborne battalion and two marine battalions were involved in the battle. One of the marine units was fleeing at a dead run while the Viet Cong chased them through a sugar cane field.

The F100s shrieked in at treetop height and blasted the pursuing Viet Cong with rockets and cannon.

Vietnamese sources claimed 300 Viet Cong were killed, 200 in the aerial attacks. A U.S. mili-

Johnson Cites Rosy Picture In Economy

Says Employment At Record Peak And Jobless Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, citing record high employment and a seven-year jobless low, says the nation can continue riding the crest of its longest economic boom in history.

"There is much good news economically," Johnson said after the Labor Department reported Thursday that more than 70 million Americans were at work in March.

The drop in the jobless rate from 5 per cent to 4.7 per cent of the labor force is also good news, he said, but still "unemployment is too high."

The Labor Department said employment climbed 700,000 to 70,169,000, the highest March on record and — on a seasonally adjusted basis — the highest for any month in history.

"The news of this gain in em-

Over Viet Nam Situation

U.S. Strategists Voice Optimism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration strategists neared the end of their current Viet Nam review today amid cautious optimism that the situation is taking a turn for the better.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was slated to brief House and Senate committees before meeting with the National Security Council and President Johnson.

This will about wind up Taylor's one-week round of consultations here. He is scheduled to head back to Saigon Saturday.

Johnson held a surprise news conference late Thursday just before a two-hour session with Taylor and the administration's diplomatic, defense and intelligence chiefs.

The President said the talks focused on boosting efficiency of the Viet Nam campaign, but he declined to disclose any military plans. "I know of no far-reaching strategy that is being suggested or promulgated," he added.

As for the furor over use of nonlethal gas against Communist Viet Cong guerrillas, Johnson said "somebody made a mountain out of a molehill" with the allegations that America was engaging in poison gas warfare.

He said the President, as commander in chief, would "of course," know in advance and would have to authorize any use of poison gas.

However "no one told me that the South Vietnamese were going to use tear gas" — a standard, anti-riot item — "but there is no reason why they should," he said. The United States supplied the gas.

Grand Jury's Study Slated On 30 Cases

Panel To Convene Tuesday Morning At Court In Lisbon

LISBON — Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis said today he expects approximately 30 cases will be presented to the County Grand Jury when it is seated Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for the April term of court.

The charges will include armed robbery, carrying concealed weapons, burglary, robbery and auto larceny, along with a number of secret indictments.

The April Term will open officially at noon Monday when the County Bar Association meets for dinner at the VFW McKinley room, followed by a business session at the Courthouse with Atty. Robert Kapp of East Liverpool assuming office as president. He was elected in January.

The 15-member panel will be picked Tuesday morning from a venire of 30 persons and will be sworn in by Judge Buzzard, who will handle criminal cases in the new term.

The jury first will visit the County Jail, returning to the Courthouse in the afternoon to begin hearing witnesses.

Bettis has eight witnesses in three cases reporting Tuesday afternoon; 21 witnesses in 11 cases Wednesday and three witnesses in one case for Thursday, plus the secret investigations. It is hoped that the jury will be able to report late Thursday.

Defendants and charges include:

Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 23, of 1615 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, $90 armed robbery of Robert Freeman at Betty's Store Feb. 19.

Carl Hawk of Wellsville and William K. Hunt, 121 Market St., East Liverpool, burglary of Cooper's American Oil Co. station in East Liverpool Feb. 19.

Driver 'Fair' After Mishap

Irondale Man Hurt As Auto Overturns

A 22-year-old Irondale driver was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when his auto hit an embankment and overturned near Salineville at 2:30 a. m. today.

Perry Marvin Rowley received lacerations of the forehead and right ear in the mishap on Route 164 about two-tenths of a mile south of Salineville.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Rowley was headed south when he lost control on a curve and the 1961 sedan veered off the road, hit an embankment and overturned onto its top. There was extensive damage to the car.

Frederick Lawrence Meek, 17, of Pleasant Heights, Lisbon, escaped injury when the left front wheel of his 1955 sedan came off as he was making a left turn on Route 517 a half mile east of Route 164, officers said. Meek drove his car into a ditch.

Navy Planes Eye Ships In Tonkin Gulf

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy patrol planes are keeping tab on Soviet ships and vessels of other nations heading through the Gulf of Tonkin toward Communist North Viet Nam, sources said today.

They said these patrol aircraft sometimes fly as low as a few hundred feet to get clear identification of such ships, to photograph them, and to check on whether they are carrying deck cargo such as airplane fuselages, missile bodies, or tanks.

These sources deny Navy planes do any buzzing, which means a very low and harassing pass.

The Soviet Union has been claiming repeated U.S. buzzing of its ships off Viet Nam, in the East China Sea, and the Sea of Japan.

Navy officials noted that Soviet planes in the past have overflown U.S. aircraft carriers in both the Pacific and the Atlantic.

The Navy stepped up air patrols along the Vietnamese coast about five weeks ago.

Two such patrols are flown each day by P2V Neptune patrol planes based in South Viet Nam.

A major purpose of the expanded patrolling is to monitor shipping bound into North Viet Nam — not only Communist bloc shipping but vessels of other nations as well.

The greatest interest is in vessels flying Communist bloc flags, especially since the Soviet Union announced it would provide increased military aid to North Viet Nam, which has been hammered by U.S. and South Vietnamese air bombing strikes. Particular watch is kept for ships equipped with large hatches, since these might be carrying antiaircraft missiles or other kinds of missiles in their cargo holds.

So far, sources said, the Navy patrol planes have not spotted any vessels with suspicious deck cargo.

Nor have they noticed any significant rise in ship traffic into North Viet Nam, it was said.

Suicide is the 10th leading cause of death among American adults.

Views Sought By British To End Viet War

LONDON (AP) — The British government called today for the views of 11 governments on ways of ending the war in Viet Nam.

The Foreign Office announced that Britain, as cochairman of the 1954 Indochinese peace conference, had addressed messages to all countries involved in the future of Viet Nam.

The messages went to the governments of the United States, the Soviet Union, France, Red China, Cambodia, Laos, North and South Viet Nam, India, Poland and Canada.

India, Poland and Canada make up the international commission that is supposed to supervise the operation of the 1954 peace agreement.

The British message, signed by Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart, expressed hope that Patrick Gordon Walker will have a chance for more detailed discussions with some of the governments concerned when he makes a swing through Southeast Asia soon.

Gordon Walker, a former foreign secretary, is to leave later this month as Stewart's special representative to make soundings on the prospects of peace talks.

The British already have instructed their representatives in Peking and Hanoi to check whether Red Chinese and North Vietnamese leaders will receive Gordon Walker.

wing of the classroom structure, and a building for vocational training — will be located on a section of the tract above the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The two - story elementary building will be located in the area closer to Bank St., Woomer said.

Because of the terrain, the high school classroom building will be three stories as seen from Maine Blvd. and the surrounding area and two stories when viewed from the parking area.

The two classroom wings will flank a three-story circular section which will house a cafeteria on the ground floor, offices on the first floor and a library on the second floor. The circular section will be 100 feet in diameter.

The layout of the classrooms was left primarily to the professional staff, Woomer explained.

Although located in the same building, the auditorium and gymnasium will be separated.

The auditorium will have a seating capacity of approximately 1,200, about 25 more than can be accommodated in the Westgate School auditorium. Unlike the Westgate auditorium, the stage and surrounding area will be on the same level.

The vocational building will be a one-floor structure.

Plans call for two entrances to the tract—one from McKinnon Ave. through a tract owned by the church and used as a playground and the other from the eastern side of Maine Blvd.

Attending last night's meeting were Miss Gladys DeBolt, Mrs. Barbara Jones, Paul Zehnder and Byron R. Eells.

It marked the first meeting of the committee since it was appointed three months ago by Harry D. McConville, board president. Other members are Jackman Vodrey and H. J. English.

City Judge Penalizes Motorist And Trucker

Donald T. Curran of R. D. 1 drew a fine of $5 and costs for failing to halt for a stop sign at County Rd. 428 and Route 30. Curran was cited Tuesday morning by the patrol.

ployment is the best — and the most important of all," Johnsonson.

He added: "I believe there is no more important test of the performance of this American economic system than our ability to provide jobs for those who want and need a job."

He said the record is a tribute to all sectors of this economy, including business, labor and his own administration.

"I believe that by trusting the working of our free economy — and making wise use of our federal policies — we can continue to sustain our prosperity," he said.

He noted the economy is in its 50th consecutive month of expansion, longest in history.

The unemployment figure of 4.7 per cent — seasonally adjusted — was the lowest since October 1957. The Labor Department adjusts the figures to account for normal seasonal fluctuations. Without adjustment, the jobless figure in March was 5 per cent of the civilian labor force, which climbed about 200,000 to 73,909,000.

The number of unemployed persons in March was 3,740,000, down from 4,218,000 in February.

"That is too many," Johnson said. "With so many Americans doing so well these days, it is more important than ever that we do not forget nor neglect those who are not sharing in the production or enjoyment of our abundance."

$344 Million Approved For Appalachia

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $344,328,000 package to begin development activities in the Appalachian region was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

It represents a reduction of $18,308,000 in requests submitted by various agencies for inclusion in a supplemental money bill for the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

However, the committee specifically noted that for the most part the funds will remain available for obligation until June 30, 1966.

The bulk of the money—$200 million—was earmarked for construction of a highway system, in the 11-state region.

The committee action represents the first money to be granted under a recently enacted authorization bill which sets up $1.1 billion of aid to bolster Appalachia's sagging economy.

Also included is $13,778,000 for the Army Engineers to speed planning and construction of navigation and flood control projects in the region.

The committee, noting this is a $1,222,000 reduction in the request, said such action represents an exception and not a precedent for changing its long-time policy that public works projects should be financed only on a 12-month basis in the regular money bill.

However, this language didn't satisfy Republican Reps. John J. Rhodes of Arizona, Glenn R. Davis of Wisconsin and Howard W. Robison of New York. They objected to a procedure where funds are made available to accelerate work on existing corps projects.

Barbershop 'Parade' Planned Saturday At 8

The curtain will go up at 8 for the annual barbershop quartet parade of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Saturday night at Westgate School.

Participating quartets will be: The Imposters of Oak Park, Ill.; The Shortones of Beaver Valley; The Applejacks of Uniontown; The Akro - Lads of Akron, and The Four Encores of Elyria.

Walt Kimbro will be master of ceremonies. Don Schussler, parade chairman, will direct the Area 11 Chorus in several selections. The afterglo will follow at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Viet Nam

tary spokesman said American sources on the scene believed the figures might have some substance.

However, it is a common practice of the government to inflate enemy casualties vastly in the face of a major reverse as the operation in Quang Tin apparently was. The fighting there was reported to have broken off Thursday.

Government troops in Long An Province, south of Saigon, killed 36 Viet Cong and captured 46 suspects in an operation that cost six government dead and 12 wounded.

The fighting in Hau Nghia Province raged so fiercely that helicopter medical evacuation flights were suspended until landing areas could be made more secure.

A large portion of the helicopters in the Saigon area were on standby, ready to fly more troops into the area. The fighting was on the western side of the Vaico Oriental River, in Viet Cong country.

Lt. Gen. J. L. Throckmorton, deputy U.S. commander in Viet Nam, flew to the 25th Division headquarters at Duc Hoa, 15 miles northeast of the battle zone, in an attempt to get information.

Fighting broke out Thursday when helicopters coming down with the first load of rangers were fired on by mortars and automatic weapons.

A U.S. Army helicopter door gunner was killed and four other Americans were wounded. One helicopter was knocked down and apparently destroyed.

The mortar fire lifted as the helicopter phase of the assault was completed, but heavy fighting continued on the ground through the night.

Thirty Viet Cong were reported killed Thursday when two Communist companies jumped a smaller Vietnamese force in Thua Thien Province, 12 miles west of the old imperial capital of Hue and 400 miles north of Saigon.

At least seven government soldiers were killed and 19 wounded before contact was broken off at dark.

A battalion of troop reinforcements and one company of armored personnel carriers were rushed to the scene. The government forces seized a quantity of small arms and 150 grenades.

There's No Magic In Law

A proposal before the Ohio Senate to put a legal curfew on drive-in theaters would come to grips with a troublesome problem.

But it assuredly would not dispose of the problem.

If drive-in theaters were forced to close by, say, 1:30 a.m., and the young people who had been using them as lover's lane parking lots were merely to go somewhere else, nothing would have been gained.

Sheriff deputies then would have been given a heavier responsibility for the security of parked couples on lonely roads. And a particularly heinous kind of criminal specializing in violence would have been given a license to ply his specialty of sneaking up on unsuspecting people and attacking them with intent to maim and kill.

This is not to argue that it is a good idea for drive-in theaters to stay open all night. It obviously isn't a good idea.

It is to argue that this is one more instance of proposing a law to do something a law cannot do — cure one effect of the discipline breakdown that has made it possible for many young persons to escape parental discipline before they are ready for responsibility.

It would do no good to close drive-in theaters if people who now patronize them for purposes other than enjoying the movies stayed up late in what might be a riskier environment.

To the extent that these people are teen-agers presently immune to parental supervision and adult control, only one cure for their risky behavior exists. Someone must take them in charge.

If no one is interested in doing it, another closing law would do no good.

And, what is more frightening, if no one is able to do it, no law is going to do any good, because laws are useless without ingrained social discipline — the kind that starts at home when someone says No and means it.

To The Teachers!

A special salute to East Liverpool and area schoolteachers during the month of April, which is being observed as "Teaching Career Month."

Mayor Merrill D. Hall has proclaimed the period locally as such, with the objective of "recognizing the importance of the task accomplished by the teachers of this country, to elicit the public support necessary to encourage them to continue this task, and to encourage young people of ability to consider teaching as a career."

The teacher's key role in the everyday scheme of things becomes more and more evident when one pauses to reflect that one person in every four currently is engaged in pursuing an education, whether pre-school, elementary, secondary, higher, adult, or vocational.

The rapid rate of scientific discovery is drastically decreasing the number of jobs available to the undereducated and increasing the necessity for all workers to be capable of continuously re-educating themselves.

The teachers thus are in a position of high responsibility for the public and personal welfare of the nation and its citizens. It's fortunate most are deeply dedicated. To take their positions lightly would be a national tragedy.

No Alabama Boycott

For a man having to make difficult decisions in rapid-fire order without precedents to guide him, Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., has been doing pretty well.

Certainly he has made fewer bloopers than his chief antagonist, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

But Rev. Mr. King has made some fumbles and his "Meet the Press" proposal for boycott tactics against Alabama could be one of them.

It should be kept in mind that he only referred to the possibility of a boycott; he did not say his Christian Leadership Conference, in whose name he was speaking on "Meet the Press," would sponsor a boycott.

A boycott would not be advisable.

Not only is a boycott a tricky weapon with a built-in recoil, but it frequently fires wide of the target. A boycott against Alabama products would hurt many of the people the civil rights agitation has been trying to help.

The psychology would be wrong, moreover, because vindictiveness has been the stigma on the KKK, the Alabama politicians and the other white supremacists. Negro leaders would do well to let these people have a monopoly on rancor and hostility.

And there is still another reason for Negroes not to advocate a boycott of Alabama. Enough damage has been done to the state's residents by the excesses already committed there; no additional rancor is needed to make Alabama politicians and businessmen realize that there should be a ceiling on the high cost of bigotry and hatred.

Everybody Will Be Waiting

General approval of the New York Central-Pennsylvania merger has greeted an examiners report clearing the way for Interstate Commerce Commission action.

It is nearly a certainty that within a year this largest merger in history—more than $5 billion—will have been accomplished. The most likely source of delay now is not the two giant railroads themselves but smaller roads that tie in with the giants. Provisions must be made for their continuance in the nation's railroad linkage.

One of these is the New Haven, which has been in chronic crisis because of heavy losses on passenger service. It is being pointed out that to make the merged railroads assume the New Haven's passenger-service deficits would be contrary to the purpose of their merger.

The purpose is to eliminate deficit-creating operations, not perpetuate them.

Everybody will be waiting to see what the ICC does about this dilemma.

The emerging philosophy about railroads is that they must be allowed to possess enough financial strength to underwrite their own survival. The nation cannot exist without them.

This leaves unanswered the question of what can be done with passenger service that does not pay its own way—whether this is to be subsidized.

New Haven commuters riding to and from New York City and politicians who try to please them have held the attitude that someone owes them a sizeable part of their commuting costs. If passenger fares were realistic, they would be vastly higher—so high many commutors could not afford them.

But if New Haven passenger service ceased because realistic fares could not be collected and no one picked up the tab for the commuters, a transportation crisis would crystallize.

It would have to be acknowledged belatedly what has been true for many years—that the cost of getting into and out of New York City is more than the traffic is willing to bear.

Some Better Way

By Truman Twill

There are times when this column feels like grappling with something important. Like road-building.

We have come to that point in the year when the roads that have fallen apart from freezing and thawing must be put back together. This will cost multi-millions of dollars, in addition to the multi-billions it costs to put brand new roads together in the first place.

A taxpaying citizen watching a freshly constructed city street being hammered to pieces with a jackhammer gets jumpier than the jackhammer thinking about the money being frittered away.

Here is one taxpaying citizen who is sure there must be a better way to take care of America's sacred cow than to build surfaces for it to roam on in this hit-and-miss way, renewing them continuously at great cost and deep inconvenience to all concerned.

COULDN'T street and highway sections be constructed at central locations and they would be laid down and firmly secured?

Couldn't highway sections be lifted to get at the worm's nest of pipes, sewer lines, electric and telephone conduits and so on beneath streets, without hammering them into rubble and replacing them with patches?

Couldn't the sections be stored in yards and be available for instant replacement at any season of the year, if needed?

Couldn't the same high type of genius that can lob satellites into orbit to take closeup pictures of the moon figure out a way to apply ready-made street and highway sections to reliable underpinning that would hold them in place?

Even if the engineers answered No to all these propositions, what do they have to offer?

What, indeed, except continuation of the practice of hauling vast tonnages of raw materials long distances to build road surfaces on the scene, despite handicaps of weather, terrain and season?

What, indeed, except the shock of seeing one gang of determined workmen tear up what another gang has just constructed with our money?

What, indeed, except the springtime routine of patching up what winter has destroyed and continuing this improvisation year in and year out until we finally run out of the wherewithal to pound down the rat-hole?

ALL RIGHT, so it never has been done any other way. Everybody is doing the best he can. The dear public should be grateful that the job is being done so well.

But does anyone want to bet that a few years hence street and highway sections won't be prefabricated and put in place as they are needed: that they won't be lifted up and replaced intact when it's necessary to get at something underneath them?

In a country spending umpty billions to get to the moon, where there are no hard surfaces, surely a few million spent on research here would pay off handsomely in getting rid of wastefulness in road-building.

Unbalancing Act!

Strike Threats Grow Across U.S.

By Victor Riesel

Strikes and strike threats are sweeping the nation with more triphammer impact and rapidity than they have since the end of the big war.

Victor Riesel

Despite war in the Orient and a Soviet cosmonaut prancing in space, unions — big and small — are doing business as usual.

No industry, no strategic complex of vital construction work, is exempt. The Pentagon, NASA, steel, rubber, oil, newspaper and airlines industries are involved.

There apparently is no sense of national urgency or emergency in some labor circles. Especially on the local levels where production of vital supplies and weapons can be made or broken.

Some weeks ago in Pascagoula, Miss., 14 metal trades and construction unions struck ship building yards there. Work on four atomic attack submarines was delayed in a dispute over a few cents in the wage pattern then being negotiated. Six thousand men struck and paralyzed the yards.

A FEW DAYS ago, as predicted in this column, an Orando, Fla., Plumbing local threw pickets around Cape Kennedy in a private war with a non-union firm. This shut off revamping of Pad 34, the only stand from which the Saturn 1B rocket can be fired for Apollo moonshot rehearsals.

Until Pad 34 is made operable there can be no heaving into earth orbit of a three-man Apollo capsule. This move is necessary for the manned moon landing because the three astronauts will practice rendezvousing in space.

Without such rehearsal, there will not be any moon landing effort. The three-man Apollo shot will be the extension of the Grissom-Young orbiting in the Gemini capsule.

I have been told by NASA officially that every day the Cape is shut down by a construction workers' strike, the government loses $15 million. And every 8-hour strike by the 4,500 construction workers means one day slippage in the three-man rendezvous orbiting.

IT ALSO MEANS continued loss of face in the space race because NASA is planning spectacular operations during that shot.

Yet the small Orlando Plumbers' union chooses the vital Cape Kennedy-Merritt Island Moonport as a battle ground. The local has no members working on the complex.

However, the local has been trying to unionize the non-union firm of Harper Plumbing and Heating Co. of Winter Park, which is remaking Pad 34.

So the Orlando plumbers, knowing the urgency of the work on the base, is using it to force Harper to sign a contract with it for work being done in other parts of the state.

The Orlando Plumbers' local, I repeat, has no members on the base. But it needed only to string up pickets for all the other construction workers in the area to respect the line and stay out.

Pad 34 already has been hampered by three weeks of strikes by a sister local of the Orlando outfit.

THE SISTER LOCAL is the one which has members employed inside Cape Kennedy. When it ended its strike, Pad 34 was no better off. The out-of-town local simply put up its pickets.

Thus it has gone swiftly into disruption despite the efforts of a dedicated man called Paul Styles, director of NASA's office of Labor Relations, headquartered in the Huntsville, Ala., rocket testing center.

There the Saturn 1B rocket sits. It's the only one which can lift the three men into space. It will be moved by barge to Cape Kennedy—if Pad 34 ever is ready.

But there is further concern in the Pentagon and the White House over possible strikes in the aerospace industry which interlocks with the experiment and blast-offs at the cape and other installations.

Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers has just released some 85 pages of documents presenting its case against the many aerospace companies.

There is no doubt that Reuther and his colleagues rarely expend such energy and detailed research unless they are prepared for action. And the aerospace industry contracts begin expiring in a few weeks and will be running out almost until 1966.

ALSO INTERLOCKED is the steel industry. Despite optimistic reports of happy talk inside the Pittsburgh bargaining suites, the troubled United Steelworkers have asked for a package increase costing $20.80 a week over three years. The industry already has said it can afford to pay only $10.80 more in such a period. This looks hard to reconcile.

Thus it goes in other mass industries—all linked to the continued prosperity and war effort of the nation.

If such industries are struck at this moment in history, labor, as far as the public is concerned, will have to go to a rent-a-friend agency to get support.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—City officials and others outlined plans for a campaign to urge the War Department at Washington to select the Wellsville district as the location of one of the super-dams to be constructed in the Ohio River flood control system.

The Midland High School quartet, comprised of Paul Anthony, Joseph Schorr, David Jones and Frank Mancine, entertained members of the Fairview Grange in Ohioville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—East Liverpool's district basketball champions, the school's first team to gain a regional berth since 1928, was honored at a banquet under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club and the high school athletic association.

Maplewood residents thought the war in Europe had come to a sudden end when an air raid siren in the 2500 block on St. Clair Ave. cut loose and wailed for nearly one hour.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Wanda Cunningham was received as a new member of the Gay Ladies Club at the home of Mrs. Molly Williams of Cadmus St.

East Liverpool district Jehovah's Witnesses dedicated their new $35,000 "Kingdom Hall" with special services.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

". . . And I say there's nothing in the Hippocratic oath that says a doctor can't have a 'No on Medicare' tatoo!"

All Aren't Eager

Beavers don't live up to their public image. Some are clumsy tree-cutters and careless dam-builders. Worst of all, a few are not eager.

Beaver dams generally are marvels of animal engineering, but a lot of poor planning and wasted effort goes into their construction, the National Geographic Society says.

A beaver's sharp incisors and strong jaws enable it to gnaw through a six-inch birch tree in just 10 minutes. Making good use of the tree is another question. A mammalogist estimated that a beaver cannot use one out of every five trees it cuts.

Hard-working Canadian beavers felled a cottonwood 37 inches in diameter and 100 feet high. The rodents bit off more than they could move, however, and failed to budge their massive prize. Falling trees often become lodged against those still standing, but the animals are not intelligent enough to cut down the support, too.

Defense Of Defiance

By David Lawrence

Dr. King Justifies His Actions

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., one of the leaders of the Negro crusade, may not have realized it but he has just presented the best defense yet made for the so-called "defiance of the law" by Governors Faubus of Arkansas, Barnett of Mississippi and Wallace of Alabama.

David Lawrence

Dr. King won the 1964 Nobel Prize for promoting the cause of peace but he now plainly says that resistance to the law is one of the ways to accomplish reform. He was asked on NBC's program, "Meet the Press," to explain his reasoning as he led the second march on Montgomery on March 9, in defiance of a federal court order not to march. The stenographic transcript quotes Dr. King as having answered as follows:

"First I did not consider myself defying a court order that particular day. I consulted with my attorneys before the march and they stated that they felt that it was an invalid order and that it would not be—that I would not be in contempt of court, of violating the court order, if I led the march, to the point of having a moral confrontation with the state troopers at the point where the people were brutalized on Sunday, so I still don't consider that breaking a court order, or breaking what I consider an unjust law.

"On the other hand, I must be honest enough to say that I do feel that there are two types of laws. One is just law and one is an unjust law. I think we all have moral obligations to obey just laws. On the other hand, I think we have moral obligations to disobey unjust laws because noncooperation with evil is as much a moral obligation as is cooperation with good.

"I THINK the distinction here is that when one breaks a law the conscience tells him is unjust, he must do it openly, he must do it cheerfully, he must do it lovingly, he must do it civilly, not uncivilly, and he must do it with a willingness to accept the penalty.

"Any man who breaks a law that conscience tells him is unjust and willingly accepts the penalty by staying in jail in order to arouse the conscience of the community on the injustice of the law, is at that moment expressing the very highest respect for law."

There is a distinction to which Dr. King did not draw attention. The Department of Justice instituted contempt proceedings against Gov. Barnett when he ignored a court order but it didn't begin any such proceedings against Dr. King. In fact, his attorneys probably felt that the order which Dr. King was disobeying would be reversed in a few days and that he wouldn't be taking much of a chance if he violated it.

Gov. Barnett, in his tussle with reference to a court order, also stated that he had consulted his attorneys and that they had told him he could challenge it, but would then face contempt proceedings.

It so happens that such proceedings are still pending against Gov. Barnett, even though he is no longer in office and the purpose of the court order has since been achieved.

IT'S UNLIKELY that the Department of Justice will drop the proceedings against Mr. Barnett, because in the political world such contraditions occur.

Dr. King, in his interview, declared that the segregationists do not challenge the laws as much as they might. He added:

"The fact is that most of the segregationists and racists that I see are not willing to suffer enough for their beliefs in segregation and they are not willing to go to jail.

"I think the chief norm for guiding the situation is the willingness to accept the penalty and I don't think any society can call an individual irresponsible who breaks a law and willingly accepts the penalty, if conscience tells him that that law is unjust and I think that this is a long tradition in our society, it's a long tradition in bibilical history."

There are many who will dispute the doctrine that the individual is not "irresponsible who breaks a law and willingly accepts the penalty."

The theory of government under law is that, once law has been firmly established and explicitly set forth by the legislative body and by the courts, it should be obeyed, and that there is no justification for deliberate violation by anyone.

Tom Wicker of the New York Times, who was on the television panel, asked this question:

"How are we to enforce law when a doctrine is preached that one man's conscience may tell him that the law is unjust, when other men's consciences don't tell them that?"

DR. KING, in answering, said that law could be enforced even under such conditions "by not allowing anarchy to develop." It could be that the Nobel Peace prize winner was expressing himself as ambiguously as did Sen. Goldwater in his now-famous maxim:

"Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice; moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Bliss, The Silent Type

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Ray C. Bliss, combination rescue worker and cement-mixer, has taken over his new job without any illusions or hokum about the dilapidated condition of the Republican party.

The 57-year-old Bliss, a political technician of the silent type, Thursday succeeded Dean Burch, anything but silent, as chairman of the GOP's national comittee.

Burch, handpicked by Barry Goldwater for the chairman's job during last year's campaign, was forced out after the 1964 election disaster. He was a voluble symbol of the Goldwater philosophy which led the party into shattering defeat.

Goldwater was never silent, either, but at this stage in the party's history Bliss' silence may be golden.

He has to help save the party from oblivion, which it is headed for if it can't recapture the confidence of the voters, and at the same time mix the cement needed to put the scattered pieces together.

Bliss aparently thinks the Republicans need a complete overhaul job. He said: "We must build a party which offers a broad appeal to all citizens of the United States." It didn't in 1964, as the returns showed.

The overhaul would require fusing the Goldwaterites and the anti-Goldwater Republicans into a unity which may be impossible, for Goldwater himself Thursday described the kind of party he wants.

He said the GOP has been "weak-kneed and short-sighted" in facing the issue of what he called mounting federal power. But this was one of Goldwater's principal positions in the election which rejected him worse than any modern-day candidate.

Goldwater continued: "We can no longer hide behind the weasel words that try to say we can avoid the problem by ignoring it."

He singled out President Johnson's voting rights bill, which has a lot of Republican support in Congress and seems sure to pass, as typifying the kind of centralized power he opposes.

This sounds like the Goldwater of 1964. He still apparently hasn't accepted as a reality of American life the fact that his ideas of government were overwhelmingly rejected.

If he keeps up it will make an old man of Bliss whose main task is to try to unify the party.

The party split will be permanent if Goldwater and his followers insist upon sticking to their 1964 line. For the anti-Goldwaterites can hardly afford to, and certainly won't, follow him and still hope to win the 1966 congressional elections.

The latest evidence of the continuing split in the party came after Goldwater spoke when former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he disagreed and wants a voting bill passed promptly, even though he thinks it should be revised a bit.

Instead of a bill, Goldwater said, the Johnson voting proposal should be a constitutional amendment. But that would take so much time to approve that Nixon said it couldn't be done before the 1966 elections.

While Burch was always a controversial figure within the party, Bliss won't be, if he can help it.

Steel Union Eying Other Pact Matters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With its demand for a $1-an-hour boost in wages and fringe benefits on the bargaining table, the United Steel Workers Union turned today to completing a presentation of so-called non-economic contract matters.

A list of these proposals covering job classifications, incentives, vacation scheduling, seniority and training was presented Thursday to at least one of the nation's big 11 steelmakers.

One of the proposals was for in-plant facilities where steelworkers could learn to read and write English and do basic arithmetic.

The other companies were expected to get a look at the proposals shortly at company-level meetings that are going on simultaneously with top-level bargaining by a 12-man union-industry committee.

The top bargainers met again today in joint session to hassle over the economic package the union presented earlier in the week. The package includes demands for wage and benefit increases that the union estimates would cost $1 an hour or more over three years.

No formal industry rebuttal is expected until next week at the earliest. The industry reportedly has labeled the demands exorbitant.

U.S. Steel Corp., which usually sets the pace in industry talks, was handed a nine-page list of proposals Thursday. The list supplemented an earlier one that covered such areas as grievance procedures, foremen's duties, contracting out of work and the like.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Precision, Quality Favored Over Speed

Many parents write me of the child, typically in the middle elementary grades, who at home and school hurries through written assignments to get them done quickly with little or no regard for quality or precision. The writing is slovenly, sometimes illegible; errors in simple number work and spelling are numerous.

Dr. Garry Myers

In the average classroom the child may not get the notion that precision is important. Indeed, if he has a spelling list to learn he may not be supposed to study the correct spelling of a word until after he has spelled it wrong.

If he's not sure of how to spell a word he will not leave a blank space but will make a guess at it. He supposes it were better to be rapid than to be right.

FOR homework in arithmetic he may be assigned enough drill exercises in his book to keep him busy for half an hour or an hour, but this work is rarely checked at school for precision.

When he does written homework he's in a hurry, and seldom do his parents check to make sure his spelling and doing of simple number work is accurate.

Likewise, when this child does a chore at home he is inclined to hurry through with it without concern that it really is done well, or even finished.

At school this child needs a teacher who will place great emphasis on precision and neatness; on accuracy rather than speed. Better that he worked on the correct spelling of a quarter as many words as he usually does, or on a quarter as many simple exercises in numbers, than to hurry through, making many mistakes.

Sometimes he should be required right at school to redo such written work he has done carelessly and slovenly.

WE PARENTS can't wisely tell the school what to do. But we can do something for this child at home. We can require him to do a few chores promptly and as well as he is able, rather than assign him many to be done shiftlessly. We need to make clear to him what we mean by our standards and then hold him to them.

When this child does written work, we can hold him to spelling his words correctly, spelling them for him or encouraging him to look up their spelling in the dictionary. If there is time available, and he has misspelled a number of words, done his number work with several errors or has written carelessly, we can require him to recopy with neatness and precision.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "Home Helps in Spelling and Arithmetic," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 7-year-old daughter has started something new. I don't know how to deal with it.

Carrie has been getting up in the middle of the night and crawling in bed with her father. My husband and I share a large bed, but Carrie never comes to my side—always to his.

She has a different excuse every night. Either it is too cold in her room or too warm. Twice she said she heard noises and was frightened. Last night she said her bed was too hard.

Do you feel we should allow Carrie to get away with this? I told my husband I think it's a bad habit which will be difficult to break later. He feels she is going through a stage and that it would be damaging to reject her.

Last night I told Carrie to go back to her own bed and she screamed, "Daddy is nice and you are mean."

What are your views on this? —EMBATTLED MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Embattled: A child who wanders into the room of parents during the night needs reassurance that she is loved.

Your husband should take Carrie back to her room and chat with her for about 10 minutes. She should not be allowed to get into her daddy's bed.

It would be wise if you stayed out of it. Carrie must not get the idea that you are depriving her of daddy's love and attention.

Pistol Packer

Dear Ann: Last night my boy friend and I were parked out in the country. Please don't give me a purity lecture. We were only talking and you can believe that or not.

When Bill thought he heard voices he opened the glove compartment and took out a revolver. I was frightened and said so. It turned out that the voices he heard had come from the radio.

I asked Bill why he carried the gun and he said "for protection." He said he got the idea last year when he read about a couple who had been murdered while parked along the road.

Isn't it against the law to carry a gun in a car? Bill says it isn't. Frankly, I don't like the idea.—NO PISTOL-PACKIN' MAMA.

-:-

Dear N.P.M.: A special permit is needed to carry a gun in an automobile. Salesmen or truck drivers may have need for a revolver but young romantics should not be parking on lonely roads, gun or no gun. Such couples are targets for robbers and assorted nuts. Furthermore, an automobile is a shabby and inappropriate setting for romance.

Profane Money

Dear Ann: Recently a woman wrote and asked what could be done about her husband's swearing. Your reply was that people use strong language as a substitute for weak ideas. Beyond that you didn't give her much help.

My father was a bad swearer. I say "was" because he doesn't swear any more. This is how my mother cured him:

She made him agree to pay her 5 cents a hell, 10 cents a damn, 25 cents for attaching the name of the Lord to the damn and 50 cents for anything worse.

After forking over several dollars worth of change, my father learned to leave the expensive words out of his vocabulary.

I just read this letter to my dad. He smiled and said, "That's a damned fine letter" and handed me a dime. I hope you will print it.—JENNIE.

Dear Jennie: I agree with your dad.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

200,000-Member Klan Being Set As Goal In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan hopes to increase its Ohio membership from a current 1,000 to 200,000 with a vigorous recruitment program burning rallies in major cities, a spokesman said Thursday night.

William K. Smith of nearby Grove City, who described himself as "and old Klansman," said the rallies will begin "as soon as the weather breaks." They are planned, he said, for Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati Akron and Dayton.

"Since the President's speech," Smith said, "membership around the state is growing every day."

The speech he referred to was one after four Klansmen were arrested in Alabama in connection with the murder of a volunteer civil rights worker from Detroit. President Johnson labeled Klansmen "enemies of justice" and "hooded Bigots."

Negro New Jersey's 'Mother Of The Year'

RED BANK, N.J. (AP) — Mabel Jackson Robinson, a Negro real estate agency owner from Madison, is New Jersey's "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Robinson, mother of four, was honored for her religious and civic activities, "traits highly regarded in mothers," and for the achievements of her children.

She is the second Negro chosen by the New Jersey State Committee of the National American Mothers Committee Inc. for the title. The late Helen Lee Johnson of Atlantic City was selected in 1956.

Mrs. Robinson, a widow, will compete for the national title in New York next month.

The agency explained the tests are designed to show where the applicant's greatest potential lies. The exams are not "passed" or "failed." Results are used, with character references and questionnaires, to provide assignment for the volunteers.

Similar tests will be given at the same sites May 8 and June 12.

Officer Asks $10,000 In Car-Cruiser Crash

Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, 1790 Pennsylvania Ave., filed a $10,000 civil action Thursday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon, alleging he was injured May 30, 1964, when a cruiser was struck by a private auto at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.

The patrolman's suit names as defendant Carl M. Ludwig, 839 Chester Ave.

The petition claims that Hayes was on duty for the city and in a cruiser which was halted at the intersection. Ludwig backed his car out of a service station, crossing E. 3rd St. and hitting the cruiser, causing the officer injuries to the neck, left arm and shoulder, the petition alleges.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I would like to pass along my hint on washing blankets.

The instructions on my top loader automatic washer say to remove the agitator, so I did and screwed the cap back.

Then I set the dial for washing and added the soap, took the housewife's plunger (your suggestion) to mix up the suds, then added one blanket (only one at a washing) and used the plunger on the blanket to wash the water and suds through it. I then closed the cover of the machine and let it run through the rinse and spin-dry cycles.

The blankets dry without a wrinkle and are soft and fluffy.

I now use this method for my delicate clothes also.

I think this method would work well in a non-automatic washer and one could use the attached wringer.

This method is lots easier on the housewife's back, rather than bending over the bathtub to wash blankets!

MRS. R. POTTER.

DEAR HELOISE: If a dripping faucet is bothering you, tie a string to it, long enough to reach the drain. The water will run down the drain noiselessly until you have time to fix the faucet.

M.S.

DEAR HELOISE: I cook delicious hamburgers without using any fat at all.

I just sprinkle my heavy cast iron skillet with salt, let it heat until very hot and pop in the hamburgers. They cook quickly and are never greasy and my family loves 'em this way! Though you have lots of salt in the pan the patties never taste too salty.

HAPPY HOUSEWIFE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a solution to the problem of "waistband curling" of men's trousers.

In the neighborhood dime store I purchased iron-on rug binding, which is sold by the yard, and comes in a variety of colors.

I just iron the binding onto the inside of the waistband and it will have enough body to prevent it from curling again.

This idea is especially good for keeping the smooth, well-tailored look on the Continental-type, beltless, trousers.

Mrs. SHEILA FIENGENBERG.

DEAR HELOISE: My toddler always manages to dribble ice cream on her cotton dresses. I have tried, but cannot remove these stains completely. Please give me an answer, so her little dresses will look pretty again.

MRS. WATTS.

DEAR MRS. WATTS: For ice cream, milk and cream stains . . . wash in neutral detergent suds and warm water. Rinse as usual. If spot remains remove with cleaning fluid.

Always be sure to spot test a hidden spot first and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

Love to your toddler.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I help the ladies with our church suppers each week. When I make iced tea and it clouds, I just pour a little boiling water in the tea and it clears again.

GERTRUDE HUME.

DEAR HELOISE: A tiny cork, tacked or glued on the back of picture frames, will prevent a dark line from forming on wall paper. Even the cork removed from soda botties works beautifully.

ROSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away that old telephone directory when you receive the newest edition.

Keep this in your car and it will save getting out of your car to consult the directory in a booth or store when you forgot to jot down an address or telephone number before leaving home.

King To Reveal Plan To Set Up Alabama Boycott

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is expected to announce today details of his plan to organize an economic boycott of Alabama.

King, 36, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Nobel Peace Prize winner, made the boycott threat last Sunday, but specifics of the plan have been kept secret.

SCLC's executive committee, holding its annual strategy meeting here, went over the plan Thursday night, committee sources said.

King was to make the details public at a news conference.

Johnson Forced To Borrow To Pay $100,000 In Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says his withholding tax was not enough to meet his income tax bills of about $100,000 this year and he had to borrow money to make payment.

He brought up the subject of his taxes casually in a comment made at a White House ceremony Thursday marking the issuance of a "Crusade against Cancer" postage stamp.

Later, asked to explain it at an impromptu news conference, the President said he owed about $100,000 for 1964 and as a first installment on estimated income for 1965. Much of the tax-due money had been deducted from his paychecks last year, he reported, but he said he borrowed a portion of the remainder in order to clear his accounts with Uncle Sam.

The President gets a salary of $100,000 a year, but an expense account allowance boosts that to $150,000. President Johnson also has additional income from his private investments that are now in trusteeship.

When he brought up his taxes, Johnson was making the point: If more lives can be saved by crusades against cancer and heart disease, there will be more people around to contribute to the economy — and pay their taxes. He cited himself, survivor of a severe heart attack in 1955, as an example.

Mayor Candidate In Sit-In Decides To Make Court Plea

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A candidate for mayor, who caught public attention with a sit-in during his attempt to have policemen placed at polling places, decided Thursday to take his plea to court.

Maurice Zumwalt, 62, a Republican, said he will attempt to file a writ of mandamus asking the State Supreme Court to order the Boards of Election and Police Commissioners to order assignment of police at polling places during next Tuesday's election.

Zumwalt claims police are necessary to protect voters he says are afraid to vote in some precincts.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, a Democrat, rejected earlier Thursday Zumwalt's request to direct the boards, appointed by the governor, to assign policemen at the city's 595 polling places.

Hearnes said such action is not required by state law. However, Zumwalt says statutes applying to elections in the city call for such protection.

Zumwalt sat in Wednesday morning at the election board offices and slept on a cot Wednesday night before leaving the building Thursday afternoon. He said his sit-in served to draw attention to the matter.

Zumwalt opposes Democrat A. J. Cervantes, who defeated three-term Mayor Raymond Tucker in the primary of this heavily-Democratic city.

Boy Detects Flaw In Telstar, So He Built His 'Star Dust'

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen-year-old David Belkin said he spotted some shortcomings in Telstar, so he built "Star Dust," his own communications satellite, with some extra features.

"I wanted to show how Telstar works and add a few ideas of my own," David said Thursday as he exhibited his model satellite at the Chicago Students Science Fair.

Although Telstar was "a great achievement," he said, "it had no provision for a Laser communications channel."

Star Dust has such a channel, he said, enabling it to "transmit voices on a coherent beam of light."

"It would have been an added feature for Telstar," said the high school sophomore. "It has to transmit by radio and if something goes wrong, that can't be used. If it had a Laser, then it would have another medium to transmit voices or data."

A Laser is an electronic device producing an extremely narrow beam of light.

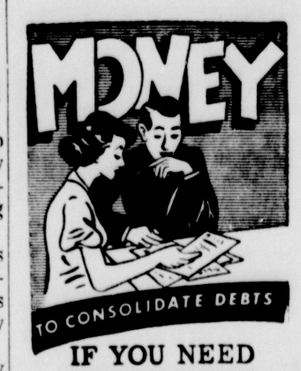

Star Dust has another improvement over Telstar, he said.

"I armed it with a weapons Laser so if another nation sent up a satellite that threatened it, mine would knock the other one out."

A spokesman for American Telephone & Telegraph, which built Telstar, said the satellite had no Laser.

"We're engaged in Laser research," he said. "If the boy's got one on his satellite, he's ahead of us."

David won an award at the science fair last year with a group of machines that measured heart beat, respiration and brain waves.

Man Charged In Murder Of 3 In Family

DUNCANNON, Pa. (AP) — State police, acting on information contained in an anonymous letter, discovered the bodies of three members of a Duncannon family Thursday. They had been shot to death.

Murder charges were filed against a fourth member of the family, identified as Byron L. Halter, 47.

He was being sought in connection with the deaths of his wife, Betty Jane, 44; his daughter, Holly Lynn, 17, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Catherine Swank, 68.

Lt. Charles S. Graci said their bodies were discovered about 1:30 p.m. by troopers investigating an anonymous letter, copies of which were received by two area newspapers, the Duncannon postmaster and a personal friend of Halter.

Graci said one of the letters had been written in long hand and the others appeared to be carbons. Postmarks showed that they had been mailed from Sunbury Wednesday.

A Beaver Local Public School seventh grader, she has been receiving school instruction at the hospital, where she will remain for about five months for rehabilitation.

Painesville Periled By Bus Service Cuts

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Curtailment of bus service in Painesville has been threatened by Charles Rosenblatt, owner of the Lake County Transportation Co., unless City Council rescinds a $10 bus license fee.

City officials said the fee was regulatory and, in effect, gave Rosenblatt's company a franchise in the city.

Judge To Air 'Point' Cases

Two area motorists will be given hearings Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Municipal Court to show cause why their driver's licenses should not be revoked under Ohio's 12-point demerit system.

The defendants are Austin H. Eastman of Ruth St. and Morley Cleve Marsdem of R.D. 3.

According to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Eastman has accumulated 12 demerits from two convictions in Municipal Court for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Each conviction adds six points under the demerit system in which a permit can be suspended if the driver accumulates 12 points in two years.

Eastman was convicted Oct. 19, 1964, and on March 1 on the two charges, the state agency said.

Marsdem was convicted June 7, 1964, and on March 17 in East Palestine's mayor's court on drunk driving charges. He also received two demerits on a speeding conviction March 31, 1964, in Eastern County Court at East Palestine.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis will represent the state in the hearings.

Hancock Man Fined On Refuse Dumping

Nick Doderick, 30, of Weirton was fined $20 and costs on a charge of dumping trash on property adjacent to a roadway at a hearing Thursday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland. Doderick had been cited by Walter McCrea, conservation officer.

In another hearing, Samuel Devore, 24, of New Cumberland was fined $10 and costs on a charge of having a defective muffler on his auto. Devore was cited by state police on Route 2.

OEA Says School Aid Lagging Behind Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association says state aid to schools has not kept pace with school costs in the last decade.

The OEA, reporting Thursday on a survey it made, says property tax rates are up 59 per cent since 1956. School-supporting taxes have risen only 22 per cent in the same period, the OEA says.

1 Killed, 2 Injured In 2-Car Collision

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—One Scioto County man was killed and two others were injured in the collision of two cars on U.S. 52 just east of here Thursday night.

Killed was Vernon Manning, 41, of Wheelersburg, a passenger in one of the cars. Another passenger in the same car, Kermit Bates, also of Wheelersburg, was injured, as was the driver of the other car, Myron J. Glein, 19, of Wheelersburg.

Youths Given Sentences In Assault Case

Three Northside Pittsburgh youths accused of the brutal beating of a Beaver County man Jan. 26 were given prison terms on charges of aggravated assault and battery Thursday in Pittsburgh by Visiting Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong County.

Authorities said Emil Bednar, 53, of Baden was beaten so badly that he suffered a fractured jaw and lost all his teeth.

The judge gave Allegheny County workhouse terms of nine to 18 months to Louis Boles and David Hart, both 18, and Michael Silverman, 17.

Asst. District Atty. Edward E. Fagan told the court that the victim had medical bills totaling more than $2,700 as result of his injuries.

Testifying with his mouth clenched almost shut because of the wires still on his jaw, Bednar said he could give no motive for the assault. He said that as he approached a Pittsburgh traffic light in his pickup truck and was slowing down, one youth stepped in front of his vehicle.

When he stopped, Bednar said, the window on one side of his truck was smashed and he was dragged out by the youths and beaten and kicked.

Boles, who admitted hitting Bednar, claimed that Bednar was the aggressor and that he himself was struck by a metal object such as a tire tool. Boles claimed that the youths only wanted to hitchhike a ride and that when Bednar beeped the horn "I thought the ride was there."

"When I ran up he asked if we were looking for trouble," Boles said, "and he hit me with something metallic like a tire iron. Then I hit him and we both went to the ground."

Hart, who also was accused of having a switch-blade type knife, denied hitting Bednar and said he tried to break up the fight. Silverman denied even being there.

Ex-Editor To Direct Three-State Project

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ralph L. Holsinger, former managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has been named information director for a $2 million federal-state-local project to help develop a coordinated transportation system in a three-state area.

The announcement was made Thursday. The Ohio-Kentucky-Indiana transportation study covers Butler, Clermont and Hamilton counties in Ohio; Kenton, Boone and Campbell in Kentucky and Dearborn and Ohio counties in Indiana.

Glenmoor's Firemen Map Future Projects

Plans for future projects were discussed at a meeting of the Glenmoor Volunteer Firemen's Association Thursday night at the fire hall.

A work detail will meet at the station Tuesday. A special meeting of association officers and officers of the department will be held Wednesday night at 7 with officials of the St. Clair Defense unit. Anyone interested in joining the department can contact Kenneth Mills, chief.

Ron Wathey, lieutenant in charge of fire police, said the police group will meet Monday night at 7 at the hall. Twenty men and six officers attended. George Hamilton, president, conducted business. Some of the men were called to pump out basements of homes flooded by the heavy rain.

Schirra, Stafford Slated For Fourth Gemini Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A veteran Mercury astronaut and a balding test pilot are likely to get the nod for this country's most ambitious space mission — meeting and joining two vehicles in space.

It's stoutly speculated at the Manned Spacecraft Center that Walter M. Schirra Jr., 42, and Thomas P. Stafford, 34, will be named Monday to make the fourth manned Gemini flight.

Schirra, a Navy commander has said many times his heart is set on flying this one because it probably will be the most interesting, and he wants Stafford, an Air Force major with him.

They were backup crewmen for Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young for the initial manned Gemini flight last week. Schirra and Stafford have followed the same strict training schedule.

The rendezvous mission is planned for two days. The astronauts would pilot the Gemini spacecraft to an Agena rocket and try a docking maneuver about 116 miles above the earth while traveling at about 25,000 miles per hour.

Schirra and Stafford could be the first space pilots to perform the feat, if the Soviets don't do it in the meantime.

The flight is scheduled for 1966, but the Gemini program has been accelerated and it could be made late this year.

Schirra is the oldest astronaut. He made space history Oct. 3, 1962, when he completed six orbits of the earth in his Mercury Sigma 7 spacecraft, in what officials called a "text book" flight.

Stafford wrote several books on test flying before joining the second group of astronauts.

New Officers Selected For Rotary Club

E. R. Chandler will become president of the East Liverpool Rotary Club July 1.

His election was announced today by the organization's Board of Directors.

Others named are: Arthur Richmond, treasurer; H. B. Barth, secretary, a post he has held since the club was formed; Carl Pelini, sergeant - at-arms, and Jackman Vodrey, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The other officers also will assume their duties in July. Chandler said various committees will be announced later.

The Board of Directors also includes Alvin T. Babb, Frank A. Dawson, T. G. Ryan, Maurice Rapport and Joseph D. Coons.

Canal Foes Get Extra Three Months To File Objections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of the proposed Lake Erie-to-Ohio River canal have been given an extra three months to file their objections to the project with the Army Corps of engineers.

Rep. J. William Stanton, R-Ohio, announced Thursday the extension from April 3 to July 3.

The April 3 deadline for objections was set by Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber, the Army Engineers' division engineer at Cincinnati, when he reported recently that the proposed project is feasible. He estimated the cost at slightly over $1 billion, but a private group has estimated the cost could eventually exceed $2 billion.

Stanton, who favors building the canal, requested the extension of time because various groups opposing the proposal had complained they did not have enough time to study the feasibility report.

Rep. Joseph P. Vigorito, D-Pa., who opposes the project, also had asked for the extension.

Most railroads have long opposed the project, while steel manufacturers in Youngstown, Ohio, and Pittsburgh have endorsed it.

After receiving and studying the written statements, the Army Engineers Board for Rivers and Harbors will make a recommendation to Congress on the proposal.

German prospectors have struck natural gas under the North Sea and experts believe major oil deposits will be found there.

Negro Comic Examines TV 'Breakthrough'

One of comedian Godfrey Cambridge's sharper routines has to do with the "breakthrough" which Negroes are supposed to have made into television.

Hal Humphrey

"Ho, yes, the breakthrough is there," says Godfrey, "but only for a certain type Negro. He must have a deep voice, be 9 feet tall, slim like Harry Belafonte, and be a mixture of Billy Eckstein, Herb Jeffries and Turhan Bey.

"Then," continues Godfrey, a deep sigh rising from his barrel-shaped frame, "they tell him he will play a cab driver. Not just any cab driver, y'understand, but one with a social conscience.

"AND SOMEWHERE in this script will be the word 'Nigger' with the big 'N' and they will congratulate themselves for getting rid of their guilt. Yessir, when TV producers cast a Negro they try to relieve the NAACP pressure for one whole year."

Godfrey's own TV breakthrough came a year ago after Jack Paar ran off two tape shows of the comic's performance at Morgan State College at Baltimore. So much favorable comment resulted from the first show, Paar stretched Godfrey's appearances to three by cutting the second tape into two segments.

Tonight Godfrey makes his eighth visit to the Paar show, which is an appearance he happily would do for nothing if necessary, because without Paar's first invitation Godfrey's future might still be behind him.

GODFREY is happy for his comedy colleague, Bill Cosby, who has a costar role with Robert Culp in a new TV series, "I Spy," coming up on NBC next season. It could be another "breakthrough," but Godfrey is waiting to see.

"That series will go one of two ways — either Madison Avenue will say, 'Okay, we got a series with a Negro in it now, so get off our backs,' or, if the ratings go way up, they'll holler, 'Gee whiz!' and, man, next season we'll be all over that tube," Godfrey predicts.

What is it the Negro wants from TV? Godfrey's answer to that is so simple that nobody on Madison Avenue understands it, because that is a street which deals only in "syndromes" and "concepts."

-:-

"WHEN MY AGENT tries to sell me to some TV producer," says Godfrey, "the answer is always, 'Fine, we like Godfrey —we'll look for a script.'

"But I don't want them to look for a script, because that means one of those 'problem' shows where everybody but me gets rid of his guilt.

"When a casting director calls me and a white actor to read for the same part, that's what I'll call a breakthrough. I saw a documentary on NBC about Lewis and Clark, but I didn't see any Negroes, and we were on that expedition.

"There's a new book out called 'The Negro Cowboy,' which proves among other things that three out of every eight trail hands in the migration West were Negroes.

—:—

"DO YOU KNOW that book was sold out in Hollywood the first day, and my friends and I all wanted to think that TV producers here had run right out and bought it to make TV shows from? But in our hearts we knew better. It was Negroes who bought that book."

Godfrey and most of his talented colleagues keep looking for signs of a genuine breakthrough, but they know they are kidding themselves.

"The Dick Van Dyke show is a sign of health, and so is Cosby's getting a series, but then recently my agent tried to get me on the Red Skelton show and the answer was, 'But Skelton does insult humor, and we couldn't put a Negro in that spot.'

"I'd like to think it won't take a Selma to get us on TV the right way, but it probably will. I know I don't watch TV now, because I don't want to break up a $400 TV set, or, worse yet, find myself talking back to it."

Kiwanians View Slide Pictures Of Niamey In Niger

The primitive but rapidly growing capital of Niger, new African nation, was described by Robert Beatty, city architect, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Beatty screened colored slides of Niamey which he visited last year during a survey for the U.S. State Department in line with preparing plans for a new embassy complex.

Thatch huts, mud buildings, new modern foreign embassies, open air toilets, gaily-dressed natives, arid expanses of desert, laborers painting walls with three-quarter inch brushes—all were shown in the slide photographs by Beatty.

Niger is a completely landlocked nation twice the size of Texas and California, and is drawing increasing interest and investment from France and other nations due to the mineral wealth of the land, which is largely desert.

Beatty was introduced by Roy Cooper, program chairman.

Secret Of Curves Is Weight Training

All flat-chested girls with a will-to-win, tune in. Change wistful wishing to purposeful action and you can turn a minus into a plus. It's done through weight training.

Ida Jean Kain

For beautiful proof, I want to tell you about Joi Lansing. When Joi was singing at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, I took my tape measure and went down to interview her. Here are her pulchritudinous measurements: bust 39, waist 23, hips 35.

Joi works out with weights every other day. She started by using a five-pound weight in each hand. Later she progressed by using seven and one-half pounds, and still later 10 pounds. Result: She added three inches to the chest measurement. Since she weighs a streamlined 115 pounds for her 5' 66" of height, this is certainly proof of the value of weight training in curve building.

HOW LONG did it take to accomplish this change? "About eight months, working out with weights every other day," was her reply.

For those interested, here are the exercises, starting with iron dumbbells weighing two to three pounds each. Rules: Breathe normally throughout the exercises. Breathe in on exertion and breathe out on the release phase of the movement.

Position: Lying on back, have arms at shoulder level, elbows bent, dumbbells in each hand.

Action: Breathe in as you raise dumbbells to arms' length above chest, touching dumbbells. Separate dumbbells and lower to original position, exhaling. Rest for a minute, then repeat two or three times. . . not more. From this same position, arms may be swung across slowly, and back out to shoulder level.

Position: Lying on back on floor, or on firm cushions, arms down sides, dumbbells grasped in each hand.

Action: Raising arms, swing dumbbells back beyond head, touching floor. Swing arms back down to sides.

Do not overdo. . .undertrain rather than overstrain.

—:—

FOR FUN, exercise and relaxation, Joi suggests that you aim to be good at some one sport. Tennis is her game, but she loves to swim, too. She is a very health conscious young woman, and has a deep respect for proper nutrition. At breakfast she has milk fortified with nutrient boosters, and her meals are well-balanced.

An accomplished singer, this lovely star has a way with a song. Her upcoming movie assignment is with Frank Sinatra in the comedy "Marriage on the Rocks."

Back to weight training and good nutrition. Thin girls, keep in mind that Joi's curves are a natural because of her health building program.

If you wish to obtain the leaflet "Weight-Training for Curve Building," be sure to send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope addressed to Ida Jean Kain, care of this newspaper.

Temporary OK Given 2 Firms To Reduce Rates

CHARLESTON (AP) — Temporary authorization for the Appalachian Power Co. and the Wheeling Electric Co. to reduce electricity rates of certain customers was announced by the Public Service Commission Thursday.

The PSC authorized Appalachian and Wheeling Electric, sister companies in the American Electric Power System, to put the new rates into effect immediately on a temporary basis pending a hearing. No hearing date has been set.

The two companies seek approval of lowered rates to certain domestic and commercial users, including all - electric homes. Appalachian, which serves 200,000 West Virginia customers, estimates the reduction in its case would amount to $249,000 a year.

United Fuel Gas Co. petitioned the PSC last week to intervene in the Appalachian case, contending the proposed rates present "no effective rate reduction for. . .customers who use gas, oil or coal for space heating."

Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., which provides gas service in the Northern Panhandle, has protested the Wheeling Electric rates and will join with United Fuel when the PSC hears the two cases. United Fuel and Manufacturers are Columbia Gas System Copanies.

Shippingport Post Office's Bids Planned

Mrs. Florence E. Cook, Shippingport postmaster, has been notified by Postmaster General John A. Gronousky that May 17 has been set as the deadline for filing bids on construction of a new Post Office for the community.

Gronousky said bid forms will be available about April 15 from Joseph A. May Jr., regional real estate officer, at Room 307-B in the General Post Office at 30th and Market Sts. in Philadelphia.

Under the department's lease construction program, the successful bidder will construct the building in the general business area according to departmental specifications and rent it to the Post Office Department for a base period of five years, with options to renew the agreement for an additional 10 years.

"Because Shippingport is located in a redevelopment area eligible to take part in the new Area Redevelopment Administration's program, the project will be of particular value, and will provide needed employment for construction and add to Shippingport's modernization efforts to attract new industries," Gronousky said.

The department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

Plea Will Be Filed In Fraud Conviction

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—An appeal will be filed in the embezzlement conviction of John P. Sheehan, former Brunswick city building and zoning inspector, a defense attorney indicated.

A Medina County Common Pleas Court jury found Sheehan guilty Thursday night of taking $2,467 from building department funds during a period from September, 1962, to December, 1964.

In the second year, the increase is seven cents an hour and an additional two cents an hour "inequity" adjustment.

In the last year, employes will receive another seven - cent wage boost, an additional three cents an hour "inequity" and one additional day for sick leave.

Sick leave can be accumulated and any days not taken will be paid for at the end of the second year, the contract provides. It also provides for three weeks' paid vacation after 15 years.

Spring Drive Set For Civic Music To Begin May 3

Plans for a new arrangement in the annual membership campaign were discussed when the Executive Board of the Tri-State Civic Music Association met Wednesday night in the office of School Supt. Paul Blair at the High School.

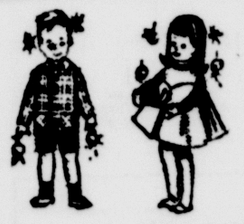

In place of the usual fall campaign, the group voted to conduct a week's spring campaign opening May 3. Blair, president, said a campaign chairman has not been named.

Mrs. Lila Belle Brooks, a former resident now living in Indiana, will be the representative from the New York headquarters. She conducted the campaign locally last year and now is an official representative for the concert series.

Each member was asked to submit the names of 10 prospective workers to staff the headquarters during the week of the campaign. A general discussion was held on the present concert series and the group agreed to consider the "package deal" in regard to choice of concerts.

Those present, in addition to Blair, were Mrs. Martha Plotts, Mrs. Lilyan Alpern, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lowe, Dr. C. M. Mayberry, Miss Luella Thompson, Mrs. Jane Rife and Joseph D. Coons. A nominating committee will be named at the next session at 5 p.m. April 21.

On ship, the deckhouse is becoming an office. Cargo vessels are switching to fully automatic boiler rooms.

McCutcheon Awarded Legion Of Merit

General Honored Again

Marine Brig. Gen. Keith B. McCutcheon, a native of East Liverpool, has been awarded the Legion of Merit for "exceptionally meritorious and outstanding service" during the last two years.

Gen. McCutcheon, right, is shown receiving the honor from Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, U.S. military commander in the Pacific. He has served as Adm. Sharp's assistant chief of staff (operations) for two years.

Gen. McCutcheon will depart April 17 for Iwakuni, Japan, where he will be assistant commander of the 1st Marine Air Wing.

—:—

A LETTER signed by Navy Secretary Paul Nitze cited the general as "highly instrumental in the resolution of many complex operational problems of great importance to the Pacific Command, which aided in furthering the security and national policies of the United States in the Pacific."

March marked Gen. McCutcheon's third year in Hawaii. He was commander of the 1st Marine Brigade, which has since deployed to Okinawa, for one year before his assignment to CINCPAC.

The award received for his CINCPAC service took the form of a gold star to add to the Legion of Merit with combat "V" he received during World War II. Over all, it's his third Legion of Merit. He earned a second award during the Korean conflict.

GEN. MCCUTCHEON also wears the Silver Star for "gallantry in action" at Mindanao during World War II when he flew into a guerrilla - held airstrip four days before the American invasion and returned with vital information on enemy strength.

He was born here Aug. 10, 1915, and was graduated from East Liverpool High School. He is married to the former Marion Thompson of East Liverpool. They have two children, Marion, 15, and Keith Jr., 9. His mother, Mrs. Louise Alberta McCutcheon, resides at 333 Thompson Ave. His father was the late Dr. M. D. McCutcheon.

3 More Years To Complete It

Georgia Legislature Gets Reapportionment Order

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has given the Georgia Legislature three more years to complete reapportionment in a ruling which seemed to please almost everyone.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders called it "a victory for every citizen of our state."

Republicans won a move for elimination of separate primaries.

Urban citizens achieved the promise of more of a voice in government while rural areas were given additional time to develop minority strength.

"Frankly, this is a little more liberal than I expected from this court," said Rep. Paul Nessmith of Bulloch, author of a resolution to delay action on reapportionment. "I expected to go back and have to reapportion again next year."

The tribunal said Thursday present Senate reapportionment and the proposed plan to reapportion the House do not meet the standard of fair representation.

It gave the Legislature until the end of the 1968 session, or May 1, 1968—which ever date comes first — to reapportion more in keeping with the U.S. Supreme Court one- man one-vote ruling.

The court said the apportionment of districts in both houses must be brought within 15 per cent of the average. At present the ratio is 2 to 1 in the House and 1.81 to 1 in the Senate.

"The apportionment in each instance continues to violate the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment and must be corrected," the tribunal said.

Provisions of an election bill enacted to fill House seats vacated under the reapportionment plans were modified by the court. Separate primaries by Democrats and Republicans were invalidated, as was a requirement that parties may nominate only by primaries.

'Miss Poppy' To Be Named

A "Miss Poppy" contest will be held by the auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 to draw attention to the many Poppy Day drives to be held during May.

The contest will be open to any girl between 4 and 10 whose father or mother is a member of the Post 70.

An entry blank appears in today's Review. Applications must be filed by midnight Tuesday.

Mrs. Betty Maylone, auxiliary president, said the wearing of the poppy shows that "we remember and are grateful for those sacrifices made to keep America alive and free."

The little flowers are replicas of the wild poppies of France and Belgium which bloomed on the battlefields and cemeteries of World War I. They are made by disabled war veterans in hospitals and workrooms throughout the country.

"We are hoping for generous contributions on Poppy Day." Mrs. Maylone said," because we have constant need for funds in the auxiliary's work for veterans and children.

Many of our veterans are getting old and require special help. Children found in need must have emergency aid until permanent support can be provided for them. The poppy funds, administered by experienced volunteers, go far to solve the problems we are constantly encountering."

Bills totaling $1,879.88 were ordered paid. Committee reports were heard. The next regular meeting will be May 6, according to Mrs. Earl Carroll, secretary.

Classes Eyed For Children At Wellsville

A program to help underprivileged children of pre-kindergarten age has been launched in Wellsville.

Entitled "Project Head Start," it will be sponsored by the Wellsville Board of Education and financed primarily by the federal government.

Two classes will be set up, one at MacDonald School and the other at Garfield School.

The program will give children whose parents are on relief or those from low income families an opportunity to receive some teaching before entering kindergarten classes.

Samuel Linger, Garfield principal, will be the director. The plan still must be approved by the federal government.

The project comes under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 and calls for the government to pay 90 per cent of the cost, with the remainder being charged to the community.

The Wellsville board is making its buildings and equipment available as part of the city's share.

Linger said that it is planned to open the classes sometime in June. They will run for two months and probably will be held in the mornings. Each class will contain 15 to 20 children.

Courthouses Could Junk Papers Under Ohio Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Stacks of legal documents cluttering Ohio courthouses could be thrown away under a measure that has the blessing of the Ohio Senate.

Senators approved 29-0 Thursday a bill by Sen. William H. Deddens, R - Hamilton, which would permit destruction of vouchers and receipts after they have been microfilmed.

"The purpose of this bill is simple. It is to provide badly needed storage space," Deddens said.

The bill now goes to the House.

Four measures were approved by the House before the legislators wound up their 11th week of work. Two would designate "Ohio flint" as the official state gem and prohibit nonmembers from displaying emblems of fraternal organizations.

Other House - approved bills would convey a plot of state land in Bath Township, Greene County, to Kenneth R. Domigan and others and correct errors in a previous bill.

Sen. Charles L. Pancake, D-Athens, introduced a measure in the upper chamber which he said is designed to help employes of small businesses "at income tax time."

His measure would require all employers, regardless of size, to supply employes with itemized lists of payroll deductions.

He also introduced a proposal which would permit filing of claims for permanent partial disability with the state Industrial Commission without having first been granted temporary partial disability benefits.

East End Man Due Hearing On 3 Charges

Paroled Thursday from the Marion Correctional Institution, an East End man was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on two charges of breaking and entering and one of receiving and concealing stolen property stemming from thefts 14 months ago.

When Sherman Mikeals of Dewey Ave. requested a continuance to obtain counsel, Judge Chertoff set the hearings for Tuesday morning and fixed bond at $1,000. No pleas were entered.

Mikeals was released yesterday from the penal institution and was returned to East Liverpool by Police Capt. R. H. Pyle and Patrolman Charles Winters to face the city charges filed by Capt. Pyle.

Police said Mikeals had been sentenced to 1-7 years in the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus on a forgery charge involving a stolen check in Canton. He later was transferred to Marion and local authorities placed a "hold" order against him.

Mikeals is accused of breaking and entering Central Service on W. 7th St. on Feb. 5 and 8, 1964, with intent to steal.

The charge on concealing stolen property alleges that Mikeals on Feb. 8 unlawfully received and concealed four six-transistor radios valued at $14.95 each, a transistor tape recorder, an automatic toaster, an empty case for a transistor radio and a box containing a man's watch, tie clasp and cuff links. The total value was $159.60, the affidavit said.

Capt. Pyle said Mikeals was picked up the same day by the State Highway Patrol at Wintersville on a warrant from Canton, where he was being sought for forging a signature on a check stolen from a Canton home.

Some of the loot was found in his car when he was arrested and other items were recovered in Canton, Capt. Pyle said.

Continuance Granted On Truck Theft Case

Because he had no attorney to represent him, a hearing for Larry Joe Vance, 217 W. 2nd St., on a charge of stealing a pickup truck Monday night, was continued today until Monday by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff told the 21 - year-old parolee the hearing will be held Monday regardless of whether he has obtained counsel. His bond of $1,000 was continued.

Vance was arrested early Monday night at Center Alley and Market St. after allegedly stealing the truck owned by Mike Turk, Inc., from a lot at Higgs Inn on old Routes 7 and 30, where it had been parked by Ralph Boyd.

Conant Calls For Merger Of Smaller High Schools

By G.K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. James B. Conant believes thousands of the nation's small high schools should be eliminated by consolidation, and he proposes this method: "Increase the number of players on the basketball team to 20."

Conant, president emeritus of Harvard and a national authority on public education, was speaking only half in jest when he made this suggestion Thursday night.

He quipped that you might lump four small high schools into one, and that consolidating their five-member basketball teams might be a significant place to start to gain public support.

In a serious vein, he told the delegate assembly of the National School Boards Association he believes the 15 to 20 largest local school districts in the nation should be divided into smaller, more manageable units.

He acknowledged that he did not know how this could be done, and said he had no hope that it could be done in the near future.

Conant has long campaigned for the consolidation of high schools with a graduating class of less than 100. Such schools, he told a news conference, are too small to hire the teachers and offer the courses that today's young people need.

Local pride in high school athletics, he said, is the biggest stumbling block to consolidation in many areas.

Conant said boards of education in the nation's largest cities are trying to accomplish an impossible task in administering schools with hundreds of thousands of pupils.

"A dozen or so boards have responsibility for so many people, so many children," he told the school board members, "that our much proclaimed ideal of local responsibility (for education) is a complete myth."

At his news conference later, Conant said there is no state agency now in existence which could divide the huge districts into smaller ones, each with a separate board.

"It would take a completely new investigative committee," he said, "but the authority to create such a committee lies, of course, with the state legislature."

Conant said school districts ideally should serve no fewer than 35,000 to 70,000 inhabitants and no more than 250,000 to 500,000.

It is impossible, he said, for one school board to give adequate supervision to more than 100,000 students.

Those with birthdays in April were recognized. They were Mrs. Gregg McElhaney, Mrs. William Stewart, Mrs. Charles Hartzell and Chester Elliott.

The traveling program for Beaver County Granges will be held Monday night at 8 at the Fairview Grange.

The youth reported on district meetings held in Allegheny County and Butler County.

Because of the Easter season, no further meetings will be held until May 6.

On Voting Rights Legislation

Goldwater, Nixon Differ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Republidans — Barry Goldwater and Richard M. Nixon — stood on opposite sides today in the debate over legislation to guarantee Negro voting rights.

Goldwater said there are enough voting-rights laws on the books already — and added the legislation President Johnson now seeks "does nothing less than change our Constitution."

"If we are to do this," the party's 1964 presidential nominee told more than 2,000 Republican women Thursday, "we should be approaching the current legislation as an amendment to the Constitution."

But Nixon, the nominee in 1960, said action is needed now, to cope with a situation he termed volatile. He said a constitutional amendment would take too long.

"I think the Congress should act, but I think it should act judiciously," the former vice president told a news conference.

The 13th annual Republican Women's Conference hears today from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who played a major role in drafting the Johnson bill.

The party's top policymakers already are on record as advocates of federal action to guarantee all Americans their right to vote before the 1966 congressional elections.

The Republican Coordinating Committee took that stand March 10. Goldwater is a member, but he was not on hand then. Nixon was.

Nixon said a constitutional amendment on voting rights could not be effective in time for the 1966 balloting. He said that kind of delay would lead to new demonstrations and the danger of violence.

"The situation requires enactment of a bill now," Nixon said. But he was critical of the Johnson proposal. For one thing, he said, it does not provide broad enough coverage.

Its major impact would be felt in a half dozen Southern states. "I do not see why Texas should have a privileged position," Nixon said.

Nixon also said he thinks literacy tests, administered fairly, are a valid requirement. He said a sixth-grade education should establish a presumption of literacy.

Goldwater said the Johnson proposal is a sample of centralized power. He said the Constitution outlaws racial discrimination in voting — but also reserves to the states the right to fix voter qualifications.

"There are on the books today ample laws to demand and obtain the right to vote for every qualified citizen in every state of this union," he said. "But we are being asked to sweep past existing laws and to sweep away others in the name of a new urgency."

Akron Concern Hit By Its First Strike

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — About 100 members of local 587, Bridge, Structural and ornamental Iron Workers of America, refused to report for work Thursday at the Ornamental Iron Works Co. here as the result of a contract dispute. It was the first strike in the 59-year history of the company.

The workers' three-year contract expired at midnight Wednesday. Negotiations have failed to produce agreement on the length of the new contract and on wages.

Structure Hit On W. 7th St.

A two-story brick building on W. 7th St. was damaged heavily when apparently struck by a truck whose operator drove away without stopping.

Bricks were knocked out of the edge of the building at 142 W. 7th St. owned by Basil Mangano of St. Clair Ave. Ext. when hit by the truck late Wednesday night or early Thursday.

Officers said a truck apparently was responsible for the damage since the marks on the building are about nine feet above ground level — too high for an auto.

The damage was discovered at 8:45 a.m. yesterday.

A backing mishap was blamed for damage to the parked 1962 sedan of Darl Stowers, 2251 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. at 8:11 a.m. yesterday on Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. near Crawford Ave.

Ruth Ann Hilditch, 24, of Cannons Mills told officers she was backing when she struck the Stowers auto, damaging the hood and bumper. There was no damage to her 1953 four-door sedan, police said.

Frank L. Young of Wellsville, R.D. 1 told police the right rear door of his auto was damaged by a hit-skip motorist while it was parked on Washington St. between 3 and 3:30 p.m. yesterday.

Gengarella's, Auto Body Gain Spots In Semi-Finals

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Midland Flashed More Class . . .

Following the completion of the Ohio high school finals last weekend at Columbus, the question asked by most area basketball fans was: "What would Midland do against the best in Ohio?"

This season we had the opportunity to see the finals in both Pennsylvania and Ohio. In our opinion, Midland wouldn't have much trouble defeating the Ohio champs. We feel the Leopards flashed much more class than anything we saw at Columbus.

Disappointing was Lima Shawnee, a team that arrived at Columbus with an unblemished record. But as the sportswriters hinted, Shawnee did not play a strong schedule during the season. And it showed in the semi-final defeat.

We felt Cincinnati Xavier was the best drilled squad, but hit several cold spots in the final game which could not be overcome. Columbus South, a hustling bunch, presented a good defense against Xavier, which helped to bring the close victory.

Tournaments At Their Best . . .

ALTHOUGH THE high school firing is over, the Nonpareil Club and the Wellsville Jaycees have come up with two of the best fields seen in this area in some time.

It's too bad the two organizations ran into conflicting dates, because they have provided the district with some topnotch basketball talent. Fans now must choose between the two, a hard choice to make.

TWO TOURNAMENTS are yet to be played. Next week the Tri-State will put on a three-day show at Memorial Auditorium and the United Boosters event will get under way April 19. Anyone interested in entering the United play can contact Jack Mills at United High School at Hanoverton.

Northwestern Coach Takes A Walk

ROY BATES, who guided Northwestern High to an Ohio Class A championship, will be guest speaker at Southern Local's basketball banquet April 10.

Coach Al Girone of Southern mentioned that the colorful Bates is in the process of paying off a bet. He said he would walk to school each day for a week if his team won the Class A title.

The players held him to his word and Bates now walks four and a half miles to school every day.

Bates was ready to quit coaching at Northwestern following the 1963-64 season but the players went to him before the season started and asked him to stay. They promised they would win the state championship.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

AL BAILEY, ex-Potter floor great and successful coach at Geneva High School, has been named winner of the first annual Ashtabula County Coach of the Year award.

It is presented by the Regional Press Publications.

Bailey was honored after his Geneva five compiled a 15-4 record this past season. Geneva lost in the Sectional finals of the tournament this year.

DONATIONS are slow coming in and the committee in charge of the Patterson Field Improvement Fund urges workers to complete their list of contacts.

Anyone who has pledged to the fund may send the donation to Frank C. Dawson or to the high school.

A report on the drive will be made at a meeting next Thursday night at 7:30 at the YMCA.

Uniontown To Make Debut Tonight

Gengarella's (Midland High School) made its presence felt Thursday night by setting a new one game scoring record on opening night of the 18th annual Junior Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The Midland five flashed its championship form to run up a 112-69 victory over the Celtic Red Athletic Club of Aliquippa in last night's finale.

AUTO BODY Supply, composed of Schenley and Westinghouse standouts, and Gengarella's moved into Saturday's semi-final battle by winning twice Thursday night.

A good opening night crowd of some 900 fans turned out at Memorial Auditorium Thursday and another six-game card is on tap for tonight featuring the appearance of Uniontown which is playing under the Riverview Florists banner.

TWO TEAMS will survive tonight to complete the semi-final field.

There is a possibility that Midland and Uniontown, the two powerhouses in Pennsylvania this season, would meet in the tournament finals Saturday night.

Another outstanding schedule tonight shows Smith Drilling of Chester which has entered Boardman High School meeting Professional Mercantile (Ellwood City) in the tipoff game at 6:30.

Boardman, ranked among the top 10 in Ohio all season continued unbeaten until being eliminated by Akron Central in the Regional finals. Ellwood City, was runnerup to Aliquippa in the strong Section 3 race this past season.

—:—

TAFFORD, featuring Cliff Parsons, the 6-9 giant from Gateway and his teammates will battle a strong Cooperman & Woods team of Pittsburgh led by Hank South of South Hills Catholic and Frankie Gustine of Canevin High. That game is set for 7:30.

South, a 6-5 cager, led South Hills to the Pennsylvania Catholic championship this past season.

Uniontown will make its appearance at 8:30 and is heavily favored over the local East Liverpool All-Stars comprised of talent from the immediate area. Uniontown will bring its regular starting lineup.

SMITH HEATING of Wellsville which has entered a combination of Ashtabula, Conneaut and Wickliffe stars will oppose the Hoyle Club of Sharon which lists Sharon and Farrell High players.

The survivors of the first four games will play twice tonight with the Boardman - Ellwood City winner facing the victor at 10:30. In the wrapup Tafford-Cooperman & Woods game at 11:30, the Smith Heating-Hoyle Club survivor play the winner of the Riverview - E. L. All-Star contest.

Midland got off to a slow start Thursday night and trailed 17-10 at the end of the first quarter. The Pennsylvania state champs got rolling in the second period and spiked any threat of an upset by scoring 102 points in the next three quarters or 24 minutes.

GENGARELLA'S received an outstanding performance from all five members with Ron Brown pouring in 33 points while Sim Hill rang the bell

All Semi-Finalists Return At Wellsville

Auto Body Faces Pete's; Shaffer's, World Book To Battle Tonight

The scene at the Wellsville Jaycee Tournament is the same as it was a year ago with all four semi-finalists returning for a crack at the championship.

Semi-final battles will rage tonight when defending champion Auto Body Supply of East Liverpool paced by 7-1 giant Frank Granat of Alliance College faces Uncle Pete's in the opening game at 7:30.

The nightcap sends Shaffer's Trucking against World Book & Bible with game time at 8:30. World Book & Bible was the runnerup last year.

Thursday's quarter - final action saw the previous individual one game total broken twice. Vince Giles poured in 37 points for World Book and Granat fired in 36 points for Auto Body.

The defending Auto Body five made it to the semi-finals on the strength of a 102-80 victory over Eason's Insurance. While Granat was scoring 36 Jim McCoy the ex-Farrell and Marquette star added 20. Miles Witchey and Saffield totaled 23 each for the Eason five.

GILES dropped in 15 field goals and seven fouls to set the new record in World Book & Bible's 83-67 win over Johnny's Ashland of Salem. Bob Baker added 19 for World Book while Hutton's 20 markers paced Johnny's.

Shaffer's Trucking shattered the century mark with a 106-85 win over Amo's Esso of Rochester. Paul Krieger, who starred on last year's Pitt varsity hit the hoop for 27 points while Maddox added 21 for Shaffer's and Bill Stephens who performed at Akron University added 19. All five of Shaffer's starters gained the double figures. Biff Aultman and Jim Irons, a pair of ex-Geneva College standouts scored 22 and 20 points respectively for Amo's.

UNCLE PETE'S scored a 76-46 decision over Damascus Auto Body as Steve Baldwin led the way with a 21-point performance, while Ted Robinson and Bud Ceneviva added 14 and 12 respectively. Messiner's 14 topped the losing Damascus entry.

The consolation game will begin at 7 p. m. Saturday between tonight's two losers. The championship contest will get underway at 8:30.

Texas Relays Start Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays open today with 1,300 athletes going through preliminaries and Randy Matson, the Texas A&M strongman, appearing in the lone final — the discus throw in which he will be seeking the intercollegiate record.

Matson, who already holds the shot-put record at 66 feet, 3-4 inch, set last week, can add the discus to his string if he heaves the platter better than 192 feet 4 inches. He has already hit 188-9.

The Aggie sophomore, second in the Olympic Games shot put, is expected to set at least two Texas Relays records — he needs only 59-10 in the shot and 188-3 in the discus.

His would be among some 20 records likely in the big four-division meet that has 50 universities and colleges. There also are junior college freshman and high school classes and there will be 44 events run off today, tonight and Saturday afternoon.

Next football season Ray Wietecha will be the offensive line coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Aaron Holds One Shot Margin At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Despite the presence of most of the big names of professional golf, the pattern of recent weeks is holding in the $65,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

Tommy Aaron, 28-year-old pro of five years from Gainesville, Ga., never a winner on the tour, held a one-shot lead going into today's second round.

He blistered the 7,000-yard par 36-35—71 Sedgefield Country Club course with a first round 31-35—66 Thursday.

Four times this year in 11 tournaments, the victor has been a first-time winner. It happened twice in the last two weeks. Bert Weaver scored at Jacksonville, Fla., two weeks ago and last Sunday at Wilmington, N.C., it was Dick Hart's turn.

The presence of Masters champion Arnold Palmer and other top stars was supposed to change things here.

But Palmer, with putting problems, had to settle for a 72 as 18 men in the field of 144 broke par and 21 others matched it. Tony Lema had 71 and Gary Player shot 73.

Aaron's five-under-par 66 was good for a one-shot edge over five-time British Walker Cup-Ryder Cup player Bernard Hunt and Bill Martindale, former Texas A&M player, who picked up $500 bonus with his first hole-in-one. Martindale aced the 171-yard seventh hole with a No. 7 iron.

Dressen Out Of Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Dressen may have suffered a heart attack, but there is nothing faint of heart about the busy little manager of the Detroit Tigers.

The 66-year-old Dressen was back home today — a new apartment in Westwood which he had never seen before — after spending three weeks in St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica rcuperating from the attack.

Dressen's physician, Dr. John C. Sharp, let him hold a brief news conference just before he left the hospital Thursday.

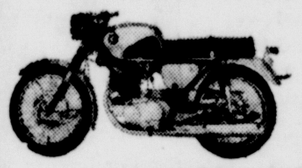

Out of it came such typical Dressen declarations as:

"The Yankees can be had."

"We'll be an improved ball club this season. Detroit can be a big threat."

Dressen said he does not know when he will rejoin the team. It will be a day-to-day program of treatment from now on.

Develops Old Elbow Trouble

Dodgers Anxiously Await Report On Koufax' Arm

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax had just completed his second game within five days, and the Los Angeles Dodgers were beaming.

"I was a little worried about Sandy 10 days ago because his arm was tender," said trainer Wayne Anderson last Tuesday, "but everything is fine now."

Less than 48 hours later, the left elbow of the great pitcher had shattered the Dodgers right out of their contentment.

Koufax, plagued with various problems in the previous three years, had another one — one that cast another shadow over his baseball future.

The 29-year-old left-hander flew from Vero Beach, Fla., to Los Angeles Thursday to undergo examination for swelling and stiffness in his pitching elbow, the same one that sidelined him for the final month and a half in 1964.

"Sandy came to me and said he was worried because his arm was stiff and swollen," General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said. "We phoned Dr. Kerlan, and he advised Sandy to fly to Los Angeles. Dr. Kerlan wants to take X rays of the elbow Friday and compare them with X rays he took last year."

Kerlan is the orthopedic specialist who treated Koufax last season after he injured the elbow sliding into second base. When he was forced out of action in mid-August, Koufax had a 19-5 record and a 1.74 earned run average.

This spring he had compiled a 3.00 ERA in 30 innings. He lost those complete games against Detroit and the Chicago White Sox even though he allowed only four hits in each.

Another pitcher with a problem is Baltimore's Milt Pappas. The veteran right-hander was forced to leave the Orioles' exhibition contest with Pittsburgh in the second game. He, too, had a sore elbow.

The Pirates won the game 7-0 behind the hitting of Ossie Virgil, who drove in four runs with a triple and a single. The Dodgers, incidentally, defeated Philadelphia 6-3 after Tony Taylor's error paved the way for three Los Angeles runs in the fifth inning.

One pitcher who enjoyed himself Thursday was Warren Spahn, who will be 44 years old April 23. Spahn scattered nine hits in seven innings and rapped two singles in the New York Mets' 4-3 triumph over Detroit. Spahn's third-inning single drove in two runs that proved to be the decisive tallies.

Floor Coach Released At Mich. State

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "This is the last year we'll have to suffer," predicted Michigan State Basketblal Coach Forddy Anderson, an optimist in defeat.

Forddy was fired Thursday and will have to watch the Spartan fortunes from the sidelines.

Anderson had high hopes for his Spartans of next season despite a 1-13 Big Ten record — the worst in the conference in MSU history — and a 5-18 overall season mark.

He figures freshman talent is the best in years.

"It was a most difficult decision for me to make," said MSU Athletic Director Biggie Munn, "but our basketball fortunes of late have not been what we'd like them to be and in order to improve the picture this decision was made."

There was no immediate announcement of a successor.

Anderson had five conference second-division finishes in the last six seasons and an over-all 125-124 mark in 11 seconds. His Spartans had one undisputed Big Ten title in 1959 and shared another in 1957.

Canadiens, Wings Take Stanley Lead

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings and the Montreal Canadiens, who finished one-two in the regular season, have jumped out in front in the National Hockey League playoffs for the Stanley Cup.

The Red Wings beat the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3 Thursday night on Norm Ullman's goal with less than five minutes to play before a Detroit turnout of 14,927. Bobby Rousseau's goal with less than eight minutes to go gave the Canadiens a 3-2 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs, the defending cup champions, before 14,007 at Montreal.

The semifinal best-of-7 series resume this weekend. Toronto plays at Montreal Saturday night. Chicago is at Detroit Sunday night.

for 26 and Norm Vanlier added 19.

Midland pulled in front midway through the second quarter and owned a 43-33 lead at halftime. The former record for one game was 96 points.

Midland had defeated Aliquippa in the finals of the WPIAL tournament last month. Chad Calabria paced Aliquippa with 19 points.

THE LEOPARDS won their first game last night in easy fashion by handing Rogers Drive In of East Liverpool a 79-27 setback. Rogers was a late substitute for Hickory, Pa. which dropped out of the tourney Thursday. Hill tallied 26 to pace Gengarella's to its first win.

Aliquippa opened with a 78-65 defeat of a good Gip's All-Star team with Calabria, the top scorer for the Quips this past season, hitting for 20 points. Gregg Howard, Fifth Ave. star, dropped in 19 to pace Gip's.

Auto Body Supply rolled to a 67-43 victory over Rochester in its initial appearance Thursday with all-City Joe Long of Westinghouse pouring in 20 points while the sophomore sensation Ken Durrett hit for 13. Berry tallied 11 for the Rochester combine.

AUTO BODY bounced back to hand a talented Cornecki A. C. squad an 87-67 setback in its second game. Long and Durrett again paved the way with 24 and 18 points respectively.

Jim Lott topped Cornecki with 18 while John Beane, New Brighton standout added 16.

Cornecki proved a surprise in the opening game last night by upsetting Seven Mile Inn of Youngstown, 60-58. Seven Mile Inn included Youngstown and Austintown stars. Lott's corner shot with only two seconds to go broke a 58-58 tie to give the Beaver Falls entry the nod. Colman's 18 points paced Cornecki while Glegge hooped 19 for the losers.

Trophies, to be awarded Saturday night following the title battle, are on display at Clendenning Florists on W. 5th St.

Florida Derby Features Events For 3-Year-Olds

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Only two of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby will be missing from the line-up Saturday when 3-year-olds clash in four races carrying a total value of $215,000 in added money.

The four races are the 1⅛ miles of the $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park, the one mile of the $50,000-added Gotham at Aqueduct, the 1⅛ miles of the $50,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park and the one mile of the $15,000-added California Derby Trial at Golden Gate Fields.

Lucky Debonair, winner of the Santa Anita Derby, and Dapper Delegate, first in the Louisiana Derby, will be on the sidelines while the other leading members of the division present their credentials for the Big One at Churchill Downs May 1.

The Florida Derby, with 10 probable starters, matches the first three finishers in the Flamingo at Hialeah Park — Native Charger, Sparkling Johnny and Hail to All — plus Maribeau, surprise winner of the Fountain of Youth; Gummo, first in last Saturday's Senatorial at Laurel, Md., and Gallant Lad, a $5,000 supplementary entry.

Native Charger, who'll be ridden by John Rotz, is the 5-2 choice with Sparkling Johnny and Hail to All next in line at 3-1. Sparkling Johnny will be ridden by Bill Shoemaker, winner of three Florida Derbies, and Hail to All by Johnny Sellers.

With 10 starters the race will gross $120,800 with $80,800 going to the winner.

The Gotham brings together Bold Lad, 1964 2-year-old champion making his 3-year-old debut after having his training curtailed by two popped splints; Jacinto, winner of five straight, including four at Santa Anita, before bowing to Lucky Debonair in the Santa Anita Derby, and Isle of Greece, first in Bowie's Governor's Gold Cup. Flag Raiser, stablemate of Isle of Greece, and Dependability, who is not eligible for the Kentucky Derby, also are among the six probable starters.

The suspension of Manuel Ycaza this week left Jacinto without his regular rider. Braulio Baeza will be up on Bold Lad while trainer Hirsh Jacobs has named Isamel Valenzuela and apprentice Bill Mahroney to handle Isle of Greece and Flag Raiser.

Eight of the 21 eligibles are expected to enter the California Derby Trial, resulting in two divisions. Charger's Kin is the best known of the Kentucky Derby nominees in the field.

Torres Eyes Opponent For First Defense

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jose Torres, the new glamor boy of boxing who won the light-heavyweight title from Willie Pastrano, will make his first defense for promoter Chris Dundee, says Dundee.

The Miami Beach promoter is the brother of Angelo Dundee, manager of Pastrano and heavyweight champion Cassius Clay. Chris Dundee said the deal was arranged with Cain Young, Torres' financial backer and adviser, three months ago. He said that Young, a wealthy Brooklyn realtor, had placed $25,000 in escrow here to guarantee Torres' appearance in case he won the title.

And among the four possible opponents, said Chris Thursday night, is Pastrano, the battered ninth-round technical knockout victim of Torres' hammering blows Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

After he had absorbed the savage beating, Pastrano, a 29-year-old veteran of 13½ years of pro battling, said "I may never fight again."

The other contenders mentioned by Chris were Wayne Thornton, the World Boxing Association's No. 1 contender from Fresno, Calif.; third-ranked Harold Johnson of Philadelphia who lost the crown to Pastrano in 1963, and Argentina's Gregorio Peralta, the No. 4 contender who was stopped by Pastrano in a title bout last year.

A Torres-Pastrano return bout could result in drastic action by the WBA. The boxing body has a rule barring return title fights. It stripped Cassius Clay of heavyweight champion recognition for signing for a return bout with Sonny Liston.

Young could not be reached immediately for comment in New York.

In Toronto, Merv McKenzie, president of the WBA, said Thursday night that Torres' title would, in all probability, be lifted if he signed to fight Pastrano in a rematch.

Probe Opened In Stilwell's Jump Injury

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Investogators today sought the cause of a parachute jumping accident which left Brig. Gen. Joseph Stilwell, 53, with fractures of the lower back, pelvis and both heels.

The general, commander of the Army's John F. Kennedy Center for Special Warfare, was listed in serious condition after surgery at Womack Army Hospital at Ft. Bragg. A spokesman said he was "doing well," considering the circumstances.

He also sustained bruises on the chest and face Thursday during a free-fall jump — sky diving in which opening the parachute is delayed so the jumper comes down quicker.

He is the son of the late Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, commander of the United States forces in the China-Burma-India theater in World War II.

The center trains Special Forces troops — wearers of green berets — and many of its graduates are serving as advisors in South Viet Nam.

Gen. Stilwell, a 1933 graduate of West Point, took command of the special warfare center last Feb. 8, after being deputy commander since July, 1964. He served in China, Burma, and India during World War II.

Oftring, Holy Cross Cage Coach, Resigns

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Holy Cross basketball team which has not known a losing season in the last 20 is without a coach today.

Frank Oftring resigned in a surprise move Thursday night.

The man who served as Crusader co-captain with Bob Cousy in 1949-50 stepped down after four years at the varsity helm. He said the expanding brokerage business of which he is president is the reason for his move.

Despite his team's many injuries, misfortunes and definite lack of height, the 40-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., native steered Holy Cross to a 13-10 record this past winter. His over-all record was 64-33.

Dr. McGough Heads Ohio Mental Hygiene Division

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Division of Mental Hygiene announced new appointments today including that of Dr. J. Wylie McGough, a deputy commissioner of the division, as commissioner to replace Dr. Lowell O. Dillon.

Dr. Dillon recently resigned the post to become superintendent of Rollman Psychiatric Institute, Cincinnati.

McGough had been recommended for the post by Dillon, who had resigned after some disagreements with the department director, Martin A. Janis.

Other appointments announced were Dr. C. Eric Johnston, superintendent of Columbus State Hospital since 1963, to assistant commissioner to head a reorganized bureau of hospitals and research and training; Dr. James S. New, director of the Clark County Guidance Center, Springfield, as assistant commissioner to head the Bureau of Community Service, and Dr. Hulusi Tuatay, assistant superintendent of Columbus State Hospital, to superintendent replacing Dr. Johnston.

Increased pay levels for division social workers and psychologists are also a part of the reorganization program announced by Janis, along with more funds for aid to community clinic programs and research and psychiatric training facilities.

Janis reported the increased pay levels is expected to result in hiring of 60 additional social workers and 45 psychologists. The increased pay, Janis hopes, will place the state in a competitive position to attract professional people.

Janis said he is consulting with Finance Director Richard L. Krabach and other state officials in an effort to propose legislation upgrading other salaries and fill several hundred staff vacancies.

Programs to study alcoholism, adolescent mental illness and sexual deviates also are being mapped.

Sinking Fund Group OKs Road Bonds Sale

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's sinking fund commission has approved the sale of $40 million in highway improvement bonds, series A, to the First Boston Corp. & Associates of New York City.

The bonds are part of the $500 million highway improvement bond issue authorized by Ohio voters May 5, 1964. State Treasurer John D. Herbert said the New York firm was the best of six bidders offering to purchase the bonds at a net interest cost of 2.7716 per cent.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Arnold Devon, who died 5 years ago, April 2, 1960. Our home seems such an empty place, For one, no longer there. Has entered that eternal realm. And left an empty chair. But though no one can take his place, Within a lonely heart, We know it was the will of God; The time had come to part. And so we say, in sincere faith, In spite of grief or pain; The thing that brought our greatest loss, Was surely Arnold's gain.

The Family.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE little think as we go from day to day, how quickly sorrow can strike at the heart, but when it did, the instant sympathy and helpfulness of friends, neighbors and relatives was deeply comforting in the sad loss of our beloved wife and daughter, Susan Cox. We are grateful to each and all who have given, and offered their services to us. — Ralph H. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Priest and family.

WE wish to thank our wonderful friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and expressions of sympathy during the recent death of our beloved husband and father. Also Major Wm. Hathorn, the Martin Funeral, Dr. W. G. Jones, the staff of the Osteopathic Hospital and the pallbearers.

A Junior Editors Quiz About OLYMPIC GAMES

QUESTION: How did the Olympic Games get started?

ANSWER: The thrilling sports event called the Olympic Games is held once every 4 years, with amateur athletes from many different countries contesting. The International Olympic Committee chooses countries where they are to be held and supervises the events. Because of the difference in sports, there are both Summer and Winter Olympic Games, different places being chosen for each one. Although it may sometimes appear to be a contest between teams, the real purpose of the Olympics is for individual athletes to compete together in a spirit of friendship.

The games began more than 2,500 years ago in Elis, Greece. The Greek city-state had cooperated with the purpose of encouraging and honoring great individual athletic achievement, and this high aim is still upheld. To emphasize it, for each opening of the Olympics a lighted torch is brought all the way from Elis by runners and used to light the Olympic flame which shows the games are in session. We show the Olympic flag with its interlocking circles and the Olympic motto, Citius, Altius, Fortius, which can be translated "swifter, higher, stronger."

FOR YOU TO DO: It would be hard to find a more inspiring motto than the Olympic one. How about pinning it up on your wall?

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, April 2, the 92nd day of 1965. There are 273 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress to declare war against Germany. In addressing a joint session, he said, "The world must be made safe for democracy."

In 1792, Congress authorized the establishment of the U. S. Mint; the first silver coins were made in 1794 in Philadelphia; the first gold in 1795.

In 1861, the Dakota Territory was created by act of Congress.

In 1872, the inventor of the telegraph, Samuel F. B. Morse, died in New York City.

In 1945, American troops pushed inland on Okinawa after the largest amphibious operation of the Pacific war.

In 1948, Congress approved a big tax cut bill over President Harry Truman's veto.

Ten years ago — The State Department announced that 76 Chinese students, previously refused permission to leave the United States, would be permitted to return to their Communist homeland.

Five years ago — The United States rejected a contention by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that he could invalidate Western rights in Berlin through a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

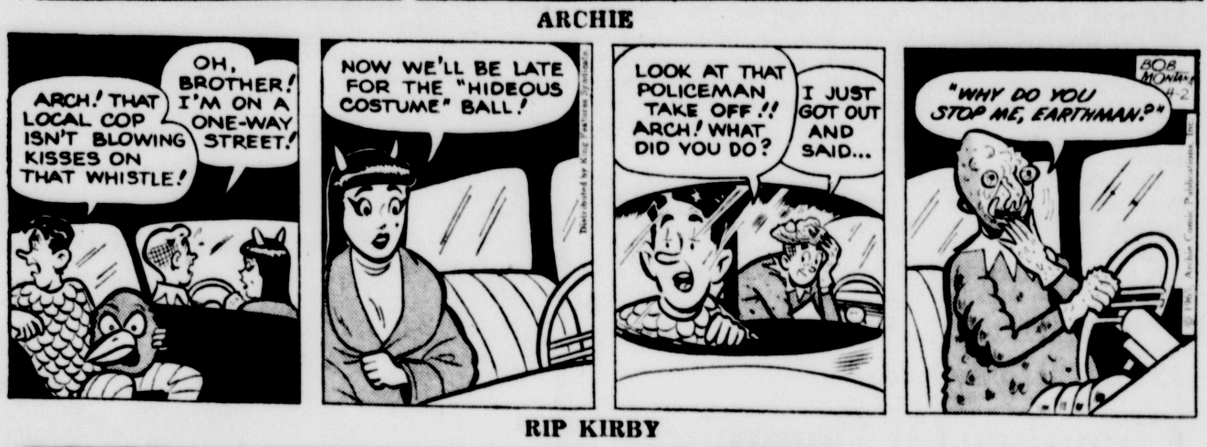

One year ago—Moscow called for a world meeting of Communist parties to solve the ideological battle with Red China.

Chamber Of Commerce To join U.S. Observance

East Liverpool will join 3,900 communities throughout the United States in observing National Chamber of Commerce Week, beginning Sunday.

Now in its 49th year, the local Chamber will utilize the observance to emphasize the broad base of its services and activities, ranging from concern with agriculture and conservation to civic and community affairs and travel and trade promotion.

An abbreviated version of the Chamber's aims and objectives commits it to a program devoted to four major points: Business development, community and area improvement, an informed and participating membership and promotion of the American free enterprise system.

A non-profit organization, the Chamber has members who represent a wide cross-section of individuals interested in the community, including industrialists, financial institutions, retailers, service trades and the professions.

The authority and general policy of the Chamber are vested in the 21-member Board of Trustees. It is directed by the officers, who are elected by the board. The officers, board members and office staff guide the work of the Chamber through committees.

A major subdivision of the Chamber is the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which co-ordinates retail activities.

The local organization maintains memberships in the U.S. and Ohio Chambers of Commerce, the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants and the National Retail Merchants Association. It also functions as a cooperative office of the U.S. Department of Commerce and is affiliated with the community service program of the National Better Business Bureau, Inc.

The Chamber publishes a monthly bulletin summarizing business conditions and listing important area developments of interest to its members. It maintains a large library of city directories and telephone books from many states as a means of furnishing information on firms and individuals in other cities.

Other services include: Information on employment and wages; data on business, economic factors and taxes; a list of clubs and organizations; state and national legislative information; a list of area points of interest and tourist information, and a community brochure.

It has available city and county maps, business statistics and a manufacturers directory.

The standing committees and their chairmen are: Agriculture and conservation, Dr. A. A. Turner; banquet, John Pinney; business relations, Richard R. Emmerling; civic and community affairs, H. James Allison Jr.; highways, Atty. Francis H. Lang.

Industrial development, Alvin T. Babb; legislative affairs, S. C. Porter Jr. and John T. Hall; manufacturers council, Dean Wilhelm; merchants association, Dayton Allen; public education, Edwin Maloney; safety council, Samuel W. Brown; transportation, J. Norman Nicely, and travel and trade promotion, H. J. English.

2,017 Meals Served At Jail During March

LISBON — It cost $1,088.84 to serve 2,017 meals at the County Jail during March, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported in his monthly summary. The average daily food cost per prisoner was $1.15.

The jail received 55 prisoners last month in addition to the 29 already confined as of March 1. Fifty-one prisoners were released in March, seven were conveyed to state institutions and six mental patients were taken to state hospitals. The jail had 211 visitors.

The sheriff said 302 papers were served and 5,671 radio transmissions and 1,116 telephone calls were handled at the jail. Fees of $675.45 were collected.

Thirty-two sets of fox feet and ears were turned in at the sheriff's office in the courthouse for the $3 bounty.

Wives Get Special Attention

Fowler Steps In, Dillon Out As Head Of Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry H. Fowler stepped in and Douglas Dillon stepped out Thursday as secretary of the Treasury in a ceremony in which their wives received special attention.

After Fowler had been sworn in, President Johnson said: "This is an occasion of mixed emotions for all of us.

"We are very sorry to see our beloved Phyllis Dillon leave. But we are all quite happy to welcome Trudy Fowler to our official family again. Doug and Joe are quite incidental." Joe is Fowler's nickname.

Johnson noted that their selection of wives commended the judgment of both Fowler and Dillon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service has a list of 130,000 persons or groups who it says may be a danger to a president.

The list was disclosed in closed-session testimony made public Thursday by a House Appropriations subcommittee considering Secret Service requests for additional money to expand protection of a president and vice president.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marsbound Mariner 4 should set a U.S. space communications record next Tuesday, its 129th day aloft.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says that on that day, Mariner 4 will exceed the working record of Mariner 2.

Mariner 4, destined to pass near Mars on July 14, is designed to operate for 6,500 hours. Mariner 2 had a lifetime of 2,600 hours.

Ohio GOP Head Plans To Beef Up Party In State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new Republican chairman, John S. Andrews of Toledo, says he plans to work closely with Gov. James A. Rhodes to beef up the party in the Buckeye State.

Andrews, 45, moved into GOP headquarters here Thursday after flying back from Washington, where Ray C. Bliss, Ohio chairman for 16 years, took over as national party chairman.

"This is my official start," Andrews told newsmen.

"I don't feel that the chairman should be out front. That is for the candidates. I will spend as much time as I can in the congressional districts building up party strength."

Saying he planned to confer soon with Rhodes, Andrews reported: "I expect to work very closely with him."

Andrews termed reports of Republic disenchantment with the governor as gross exaggerations. "There is a spirit of harmony throughout the state," Andrews said. "I detect no one flying off into space."

Andrews said he intends to retain his Lucas County chairmanship until May of next year.

He said he and his wife, Ann, planned to rent an apartment in Columbus and retain their home in Toledo.

Ohio Woman Killed

LAGRANGE, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Faye Wodrich, 63, of Toledo, Ohio, was killed Thursday when the car driven by her husband, Walter, 66, rammed a utility pole after veering out of control while passing a truck on U.S. 20, four miles east of here.
